Shifting County Picture

By FRANK LAPIERRE and GEORGE GOLDING

The picture of San Mateo County's Congressional contest was a vague and shifting one today as candidates continued to be added or dropped from the list of those who may run on November 14.

Supervisors Jean Fassler and Robert St. Clair ruled themselves out yesterday. Both are Democrats.

At least three "leading" contenders have officially not yet made up their minds: Shirley Temple Black and Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, both Republicans, and Roy Archibald, Democrat.

Former candidate Mark Sullivan, D, may be in, and former State Assemblyman Louis Francis, R., may be in.

Daly City Councilman Frank Pacelli, considered a possible strong candidate from the North County's Democratic uplands, says, "I'm just sitting back, looking."

"For certain candidates" include Republicans Paul McCloskey, Robert Barry, William Draper III and Earl Whitmore, and Democrat Ed Keating.

Realtor Robert Miller, Millbrae Republican, has listed himself as "out."

The only firmness in the shifting scene came in the announcement from Governor Reagan's office that an election to choose a successor to the late Congressman J. Arthur Younger will be held November 14. Candidates for election must pay $300 fees and file petitions with 40 to 60 signatures of registered voters between October 5 and October 13. Voters must be registered before September 21.

If needed, a runoff election will be held December 12. Voter

Ryan Plans To Stay In Assembly

State Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-Burlingame, considered by many the top Democratic prospect to run for the 11th Congressional District seat of the late J. Arthur Younger, R-San Mateo, withdrew himself from the race late last week.

Ryan, like State Sen. Richard J. Dolwig (Rep.-Atherton), who took himself out of consideration for the Republican nomination last week, said he thought he could serve his constituents better by retaining his seniority in the state legislature.

Ryan represents the 27th Assembly District, which is the northern half of San Mateo County.

MEETING PLANNED

Lycett Leads War On County Charter

The atmosphere is expected to be supercharged when the San Mateo County Charter Study Committee meets with North County councilmen in Daly City on August 3.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss proposed changes in the present county charter which now provides for election of supervisors using an "at large" system.

Members of the North County Council of Cities want to elect county supervisors by district to insure firmer control over them, especially around election time.

Although a supervisor must presently reside in a specified area (there are five in the North County) they are elected county-wide.

And that's where the North County councilmen have directed their attacks for more than two years.

They maintain in the voter-strong South County controls the Board of Supervisors, thus sacrificing representation in the North.

"Only two counties in the state use this 'at large' system — San Mateo and San Francisco. And San Francisco is unique because it is also a city," Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett points out.

BERNARD LYCETT

Lycett has been the most outspoken critic of the present supervisor election system. He is expected to appear before the committee on behalf of both the city and North County Council.

"At least one member of the present Board of Supervisors is convinced I am after a seat on that board. Time and again I have tried to convey the fact that I am only interested in this city and have no politica' ambitions, as far as the Board of Supervisors is concerned," Lycett said.

Lycett allowed there are undoubtedly many persons in the county that think the present system is far better than "ward'" elections because supervisors should conduct their thinking on a county-wide basis and not limit it to a small district.

Many fear five supervisors beholden to five separate areas would be similar to a team of horses pulling in different directions — and getting nowhere!

"I say let the people decide this matter,' Lycett said. "Put it on the ballot. I feel the people have enough intelligence to figure this matter out for themselves."

Lycett said he considered the Board of Supervisors "as it exists today, a closed door to outsiders."

"I can't even get a copy of the minutes of their meetings," Lycett said.

Once a supervisor is elected, Lycett pointed out, "they are there to stay.

"Cost of county-wide campaigning is just too steep for most people — no matter how well-qualified for the job they may be."

Cars On 186 In 3 Years?

San Bruno's section of the new Route 186 freeway will probably be completed and open to traffic within three years, spokesmen for the State Division of Highways reported Monday.

Representatives from the district engineer's office told San Bruno councilmen the right-of-way for the section of Route 186 between Junipero Serra Boulevard and the Bayshore Freeway will be acquired this year and next year.

Funds have been allocated for the right-of-way acquisition, the engineers said, and construction is scheduled to begin in 1969.

The portion of the new route west of Junipero Serra Boulevard, which will extend to the Cabrillo Highway in Pacifica, will "possibly be completed by 1973," the highway division spokesmen said.

Right-of-way acquisition on Pacifica's portion of the route is tentatively scheduled to begin in 1970 or 1971, with actual construction to begin in 1972.

The San Bruno portion is expected to be a "tremendous benefit," and take part of the heavy traffic load off San Bruno Avenue, Mayor Maurice Hamilton said.

"This road will solve a number of problems in the city," the mayor said, "and eliminate the need for some expensive city projects."

One of the Last Roundups

GREAT D.C. ROUNDUP — Several members of the SPCA last week rounded up a cow, horse, rooster and goat which were roaming freely on a city street (Carter Avenue) near the Cow Palace. The animals were trucked off to a holding corral to await claim by their owner. Cow Palace officials had made numerous complaints to the city regarding the animals straying onto the Palace parking lot.

COMPLAINT EXPECTED

A 'Great Round-up'

Perhaps the last of the "great roundups" was undertaken by several members of the SPCA on a dirt road skirting San Bruno Mountain in Daly City last week.

Reason for the roundup, which netted a horse, one cow, a rooster and a goat, was the fact that the livestock were straying onto a public right-of-way (Carter Avenue).

According to city attorney Albert Polonsky the animals "were all over" the road, violating the Daly City code which prohibits animals from running at large or trespassing on public or private property.

The SPCA "cowboys" swooped down on the area shortly after noon and within an hour had the "trespassers" herded into specially designed trucks for transportation to the corral at Coyote Point.

"By taking this somewhat drastic action, we hope to bring the matter to the attention of the animals' owner, thus preventing similar incidents," Polonsky said.

The city had received numerous complaints regarding the animals roaming freely about the nearby Cow Palace parking lot.

Polonsky said "only those animals actually on city property were hauled off by the SPCA."

The animals were claimed by John Lapachet after he paid the SPCA "storage rate" of $10 plus $2 per day for the horse and cow; $5 plus $1 per day for the goat; and $2 plus 50 cents for the rooster.

A criminal complaint was expected to be filed Wednesday in Northern Judicial District Court.

Daly City Council Upholds Denial of Zone Variance

The Daly City council Monday night upheld the planning commission's recommendation for denial of a zone change which would have paved the way for construction of a 100-bed convalescent home off Skyline Boulevard.

The request had been filed by the Peninsula Missionary and Church Extension Society of Methodist Church, Inc., and involved approximately 3.35 acres of property at the end of Westbrae Avenue.

In asking for the denial, the planning commission said the area intended for construction of the convalescent home "is an established single-family neighborhood" and the proposed use "would not serve the neighborhood and would be incompatible with existing land use."

City attorney Albert Polonsky ruled the re-zoning from R-1 (single family) to R-3 (multi-unit) was considered "spot zoning" and violated existing city codes.

Attorney Bernard Etcheverry, representing the applicant, said the area had been originally earmarked for construction of a church, but because of the number of churches already in the immediate area, plans were made to sell the parcel to John L. Griffin of Hayward for construction of the home.

In a plea to the council, Griffin pointed out the home would be a "quiet operation" and would not contain any alcoholic or mental patients.

"It would be a great asset to the community," Griffin said. Griffin said the parcel "was a peculiar piece of land" and was unsuitable for most types of development.

Using his Hayward operation as a guide, Griffen figured the convalescent home would provide "a total of $14,500 annually in tax revenues to the city.

"With the people working there, I estimate between $400,000 and $500,000 in revenues would be going into the city each year," Griffin said.

After directing the city staff of "work closely" with the landowners, in the hope of finding other use for the land, the council unanimously voted to deny the application.

In other action Monday, the council:

—Set Aupgust 14 for public hearings on a request from Tornoff Engineers and Planners for street abandonment of a portion of Old Edgemar Road adjacent to Gilman Drive, and abandonment of portions of Edgemar Road adjacent to Ocean Grove and Jefferson Union High School District property.

—Set August 14 for public hearings on the proposed rezoning of property in the vicinity of the Civic Center from R-2, R-3, C-1, and 1-D to C-0 and R3.

—Granted a 50day time extension for Tronoff Engineers and Planners for completion of subdivision improvements in Lakeview Park.

— Approved awarding of a contract to Lyal Ingersoll and Son for installation of pistol range in police headquarters.

Westmoor Aides Are Appointed

J. Clinton Coleman Monday was promoted to assistant principal-instruction at Westmoor High School in Daly City.

Trustees of the Jefferson High School District followed the recommendation of district administrators in naming Coleman, who has been Westmoor's assistant principal-administration.

Coleman succeeds Thanos Panagolious, recently named principal of Terra Nova High School in Pacifica, replacing Dr. Harold Tonini, now assistant district superintendent-instruction.

S.S.F. Parking Rules Changing

South San Francisco City Planner Daniel Pass recommended several amendments to the city's parking regulations for industrial districts Monday as a means of relieving streets in the areas of their "parking lot" burden.

The recommendation to the planing commission notes that "overtaxed parking lots in some industrial areas have caused an overflow of vehicles into adjacent streets."

"These parked vehicles, along with curbside trucks and trailers, have seriously impeded the flow of traffic in the industrial areas," Pass stated, "and peak hours witness almost total constriction."

"Although there is still much industrial acreage in the area which has not been developed, the shortage of off-street parking is critical," he said.

The South San Francisco Industrial Park Association, representing most industrial firms in the city, has petitioned the city council for an ordinance prohibiting on-street parking situation, additional off-street parking facilities will have to be provided," the planner said.

Pass said the present parking regulations for industrial areas in the city require firms to provide only one parking space for each five employes, or one space for each 2,000-square feet of building area.

"This is about half the parking space required of industrial concerns in other cities in this area," he said.

Re-structuring of Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools in Daly City would meet practically all of the criterias used to judge the benefits to all students in the Jefferson High School District.

That was the gist of a general summary by Dr. Robert Stout of his final report on Jefferson district boundary studies.

Stout, of the University of California's Field Service Center at Berkeley, turned over his book-like survey compilations — including figures on attendance areas, racial makeup in the district, survey criteria and alternative recommendations.

Among the alternate recommendations was the thought that Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools could become a

$1.10 Tax Rate For San Bruno

San Bruno councilmen formally adopted the new city budget Monday, and set a tax rate of $1.10 per $100 of assessed valuation. The rate is identical to the 1966-67 tax.

Mayor Maurice Hamilton said the only increase in the city tax results from a rise in assessed valuation, "and this is very slight."

"The increase in assessments was only about 1.4 per cent," the mayor said. The city now has a total assessment of about $72 million.

The new budget totals approximately $3.25 million.

In other business at the Monday meeting, the council heard a progress report on the Junipero Serra Freeway project from State Division of Highways representatives.

Councilmen were assured the section of the road between Westborough Boulevard and San Bruno Avenue will be completed by 1969.

An Insurance Hike For Jefferson El

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees approved a five-year "package insurance policy" with the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company last week with an annual premium rate of $25,624.

The premium represents a 25 per cent increase over the rate for the past three years.

There was speculation several months ago that the district's insurance premiums would increase "in the neighborhood of 100 per cent" because of heavy losses during the past year from arson and burglaries.

Associate Superintendent Roger Barthuli said then the 25 per cent rate increase is "about average" for schools in the area, and the district avoided a "penalty rate, probably because we are a relatively new district."

Fires touched off by arsonists caused approximately $150,000 damage to the Colma School during the past year, and schools throughout the district have suffered heavy losses from burglaries.

District administrators negotiated the insurance arrangements with William Lagomarsino and Co. and the Fireman's Fund Co., carriers for the district during the past several years.

Barthuli and Superintendent Frank Greenwood recommended the negotiating procedure, rather than putting the coverage to bid.

"There is little doubt we would have paid a higher premium had we put the coverage to bid instead of negotiating with the previous carriers," Barthuli said Tuesday.

Rates in the "package deal" are guaranteed for five years, except those which apply to automobile coverage.

In other business Tuesday, trustees accepted the gift of a rug for the F. D. Roosevelt School library from the P-TA and approved an agreement with the Daly City Recreation Department to establish a baseball field at Benjamin Franklin School.

Barthuli said the baseball diamond will cost the district about $100, with the city paying the remainder of the preparation cost and maintaining the field after it is constructed.

Trustees also approved a promotion for Barthuli at the meeting. His title was changed from assistant superintendent to associate superintendent.

Trustee Peter Galiano submitted a "notice of having submitted resignation to the County." Galiano, who has two years remaining of a four-year term, submitted the resignation earlier this week, effective Friday.

Jefferson High on Mission Street could be re-tooled probably without major overhaul for use only by ninth and tenth grade students, Stout said.

Eleventh and twelfth graders then would attend classes at the present Westmoor facility on Westmoor Avenue.

Though the re-structuring plan would meet Stout's criteria, the researcher declined to offer that suggestion as the sure "solution" to the district's problems — Stout preferred to call them "approximations."

Stout said the decision had to come from the Board of Trustees, in conjunction with district administrators.

One of the other major alternatives Stout laid before trustees was the utilization of soon-to-be-constructed Serramonte High as a school for freshmen only.

This, he said, would meet the requirements of racial balance for that year, but he was uncertain of the affect when the freshmen returned to their "home" area high schools.

Stout also presented alternative plans for simple boundary realignment in the Jefferson and Westmoor High School attendance zones.

Stout used as his proving criteria the three basic "problems" the Field Service Center was asked to survey by trustees to survey, Serramonte attendance boundaries, Jefferson-Westmoor overcrowdedness and racial balance.

In addition, Dr. Stout added that any changes:

—Will lead to meaningful racially integrated schooling for most students for most of their JUHSD stay;

—Will contribute to strengthened educational opportunities for all district students;

—Will contribute to the growth in human understanding for all students;

—Will be lasting, not temporary programs.

He tossed the decisions that the report might spur into trustees' laps with the comment:

"The hardest decision is to make a decision on these matters."

High science instructor and counselor, Walter Gloestein.

A former San Francisco policeman, Joseph Hubachek, a member of the Westmoor social science department teaching staff since 1964, was named to a new position as Work Experience supervisor, to assist the new WEP director for the district, Michael Orlich, who was named two weeks ago to replace Pablo (Paul) Perez, who resigned.

Coleman has been in the Jefferson system for 13 years, coming to Jefferson High as a Spanish and social science instructor.

He later became director of student activities and attendance supervisor there, before coming Dean of Boys at Westmoor prior to his advancement to assistant principal-administration.

Glestein has been in the district eight years.

Jeff Hi Budget Hearing

Jefferson High School trustees Monday learned from Supt. Edward Morgan that embattled Assembly Bill 272, the measure to provide school districts with state educational funds, in its "original state" would have brought the district some $700,000.

As it now stands, Morgan sid, the district could expect only about $80,000 in state aid.

Directing his remarks at trustees and employe group representatives, Morgan pointed out that if the originally proposed funds are not restored, the Jefferson district's ability to consider major benefit and salary increase proposals this year would be "extremely difficult."

Morgan pointed out that, for example, the request from the Jefferson Union School District Teachers' Association alone would total $241,000.

The board was reminded it must set the district tax rate on August 7 . . . that meeting date to replace the original regularly scheduled session of August 14.

In other discussions, the board learned:

—The district has been granted $80,000 in federal funds for special projects for the 1967-68 year, with the district matching with $41,290.

—The district's Adult Education Division awarded high school diplomas to 56 night school students.

Eserini Will Head Schools

Leo Eserini was elected to a third term as president of the South San Francisco Unified School District Board of Trustees at a special meeting last week.

A district trustee since 1950, Eserini has served as president of the board since 1965.

Leo Padreddi was elected vice president of the board for a one-year term, and James Christensen was elected board clerk.

Board members named Dr. William Starmer trustee representative to the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization.

Field of Congress Candidates Narrows

Mrs. Fassler, St. Clair Say They Will Not Run

registration deadline for that election would be October 19.

It is reported that County Democrats are trying to unite behind "one" candidate, and that that candidate will be Roy Archibald of San Mateo.

Another Democrat, Mark Sullivan, who ran two fairly strong campaigns against Younger as the Democratic standard bearer in the last two elections, said he may enter the competition again.

College of San Mateo President Julio Bortolazzo has announced that he may be a candidate.

Bortolazzo said Tuesday:

"I have not made up my mind yet. I need to know who the Democrats are, I need to know what Shirley Temple Black is doing."

Meanwhile, Sheriff Whitmore, Attorney Paul McCloskey and former New York legislator Robert Barry have begun their campaigns.

While the Republicans are apparently spending money on campaigns, the Democrats are busy narrowing the field of their candidates, lopping off such hopefuls as Supervisors St. Clair and Mrs. Fassler.

Fassler and St. Clair were considered top contenders in the race if Ryan decided not to run.

Mrs. Fassler's disclosure came as something of a shock to many of her supporters in the North County who felt she might place her name on the ballot as a representative of the Democratic Party.

"I have carefully thought this entire matter out in recent weeks . . . I'm very flattered that I have been considered as a possible candidate, but I just don't feel that I am in a position to be a candidate at this time," Mrs. Fassler said.

"I have discussed this (candidacy) at length with my family, and I would like to continue doing what I am now doing—being a Supervisor working for the people of the County," she said. "I think you can definitely count me out."

Supervisor Fassler said there are "many well qualified persons" in the county and she was certain "the people will make the very best possible choice" in the November 14 election.

Supervisor St. Clair, another candidate many local Democrats had hoped would enter, said "family considerations" ruled out his entering the scramble for the Congressional seat vacated by the recent death of Representative J. Arthur Younger.

"It just wouldn't be fair to my family. We have talked this matter over and I'm perfectly happy meeting the challenges of being a County Supervisor at this time," St. Clair said.

Dolwig Removes Self from Congressional Race

Senator Richard J. Dolwig (R-San Mateo County) has ruled himself out as a possible candidate for Congress.

He said the seniority he has accumulated in 20 years in the State Legislature will permit him to accomplish more for San Mateo County at the State level, than he would be able to in Congress.

In Sacramento, meanwhile, administration sources said they expect Governor Reagan to set the San Mateo County Congressional primary election for November 14, and a runoff election — should this prove necessary — for December 12.

"If I were elected to Congress, I would go without seniority, just as my replacement in the State Senate would be without seniority," Dolwig said in announcing his decision.

Now Wide Open

"This would mean San Mateo County's voice would be weakened at two levels of government, rather than just at the Federal level."

Dolwig thus opened the door for a wide-open race for the GOP nomination, since the veteran state legislator from Atherton had been considered the top choice.

Definitely in the race for the Republican nomination are Sheriff Earl Whitmore; Bob Barry, a former congressman from New York; William Draper, who has started a billboard campaign, although he will not formally announce until next week, and Paul McCloskey. All four men live in the Portola Valley, Woodside-Atherton area of the county.

Shirley Temple Black

Shirley Temple Black of Woodside, who had previously thrown her unqualified support behind Dolwig, was asked whether she will now enter the battle herself.

"I am sorry Senator Dolwig is not going to run," she responded. "I understand he has seniority and position in the State Senate which must be considered.

"As far as my own position is concerned, a great number of people are urging me to run for the Congressional office.

"I will now give the matter my most serious consideration."

Previously, the former movie star had indicated that she had no intention of entering the race.

Only Democrat definitely in the contest is Ed Keating, former Ramparts publisher and a resident of Atherton. Keating was defeated by Mark Sullivan in an attempt to win the Democratic nomination last year.

Dolwig paid tribute to San Mateo's Congressman J. Arthur Younger, who died unexpectedly in Washington on June 20.

". . . Art was a statesman in the true sense of the word. He served his country with dignity and distinction, and his leadership in Congress is, in large part, responsible for the county's phenomenal growth and prosperity."

Younger had previously announced that he would not seek re-election to Congress, but expressed the hope that he would be able to complete his term, despite his illness.

Dolwig said he has watched closely the political developments in San Mateo County since Younger announced he would not seek another term as the 11th Congressional District representative.

"A number of highly qualified Congressional candidates have emerged," he noted, adding: "I will not be a candidate."

Dolwig declined to endorse one candidate over the other, however. "The Republican choice for Congress will be my choice," he said.

Jefferson Open House

An open house will be held this evening at the eight Jefferson Elementary School District summer schools in Daly City and Colma, Supt. Frank Greenwood announced.

Parents and other interested residents of the community will have an opportunity to visit classrooms and meet summer school teachers during the program.

The open house will be held at Abraham Lincoln, Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, Garden Village, Colma Intermediate, Colma K-6, Fernando Rivera and Thomas Edison schools beginning at 7 p.m.

The summer school session, with 3,314 students from the district's 21 schools, will terminate July 28.

Pacifica Relieved

No Trouble In Anti-War Drive

By DON GRIERSON

Pacifica authorities are breathing easier after observing that "no serious incidents" have arisen between members of the Vietnam summer organization and the city's more conservative elements during the first weeks of the local anti-war campaign.

Police Chief Neil Tremaine said, "No trouble serious enough to warrant police attention" has been reported in connection with the anti-Vietnam war activities.

Clark Natwick, chairman of the anti-war group, said, "There have been some instances of verbal abuse, and a little pushing and shoving, but, for the most part, people have been fairly polite to our workers."

Natwick, a South San Francisco junior high school teacher who lives in Pacifica, said members of his organization are stressing a "soft sell" approach to their task, which he defines as an attempt to educate and inform the people on all aspects of the war in Vietnam and the draft.

"The last thing we want is to make anybody angry with us," he said.

Police earlier expressed some concern over possible conflict between the "Peaceniks" and "hawks" in the city.

But Basil Gladieux, local coordinator for the John Birch Society, which reputedly has a large membership in Pacifica, said his organization has no plans for any counteractivity against the Vietnam summer campaign.

"The fact is, we are opposed to the Vietnamese war also," Gladieux said, "but for vastly different reasons.

"We feel the country should either win the war or get out," he said, "and we do not approve of the present administration's policy of aiding some Communist countries while other Communists are killing American boys in Vietnam.

"However," he added, "I would like to make it clear that we are not, in any way, endorsing the activities of this group. We are just not opposing them on this issue."

Natwick said the only problems his organization has experienced have been in obtaining a place to distribute the anti-war leaflets, "iVetnam Observer" newspapers, and information on obtaining conscientious objector status.

The group had planned to distribute material at the Linda Mar Shopping Center, but the Linda Mar Merchants' Association turned thumbs down on the project, stating the material was too controversial.

Natwick said the Linda Mar meschants are "inconsistent in their policy of remaining noncontroversial, and have on many occasions permitted the distribution of right wing pamphlets."

James Cooper, a trustee of the Jefferson Union High School District, has also questioned the legality of the district allowing a planned rock and roll peace festival at Terra Nova High School.

Natwick said this event, scheduled August 6, "is probably the single most important activity planned for the summer.

"We will have a number of rock and roll groups performing, and several speakers have been lined up," he said.

A number of Pacifica residents have voiced their opposition to the Vietnam summer organization's use of the school property, but the board trustees stated they are concerned only with the legality of such use.

"As matters now stand, we will hold the rock and roll festival on the Terra Nova football field as planned," Natwick said.

There were reports that the Vietnam Summer, a nationwide organization, is included in the Federal Bureau of Investigaany list of subversive groups.

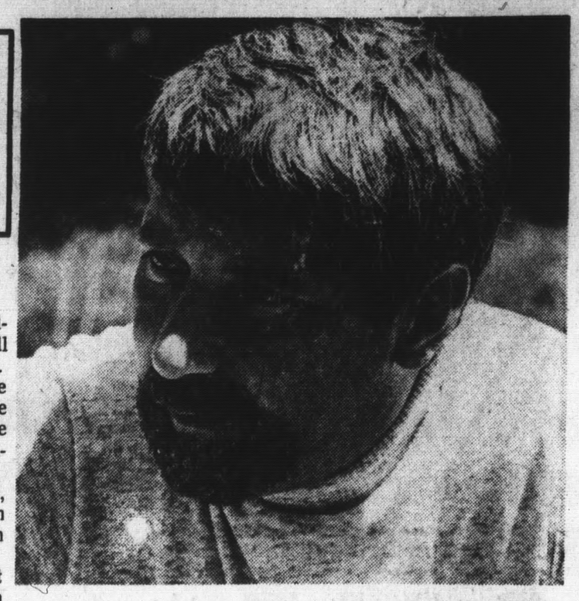

Commenting on the reports, Natwick said the organization "is not, as far as we know, on any list of subgersive groups.

"If it were, I am certain most of our workers would resign immediately," he said.

About 30 persons are actively participating in the project, Natwick said, and the membership includes college students, teachers, businessmen, ministers, "and people from all age and income groups."

They have distributed the "peace pamphlets" in front of the main post office in Pacific Manor for the past three weeks.

Natwick said the organization hopes to establish a permanent "peace information center and coffee house" in Pacifica by the end of the summer.

'Hippies Politically Unaware'–Mercer

DAVID MERCER

David Mercer was no stranger to the United States when he accepted an invitation to teach a summer course at Humboldt State College. He is the author of the film "Morgan," and as anti-comformity and critical of the Establishment, in this case England, as the characters in his movie.

"Morgan" was largely autobiographical, written after he'd visited a London psychiatric clinic asking for help after the break-up of one of his innumerable marriages. But he visualized the character differently when he conceived it as a TV play for the BBC under the title "A Suitable Case for Treatment."

"I wrote him as a politically disillusioned man in his late thirties. When David Warner was cast as Morgan, he took on an invidiously different slant of a hippie."

He acknowledges that young people identify with him, though he's "frankly opposed to hippies, for all their lovely virtues, because they think immaturely and they're politically ignorant. They don't understand what they're rejecting."

☆ ☆ ☆

THE FILM WAS SUPPOSED TO BE A TRAGI-COMEDY, something to disturb people. He doesn't feel he can separate the theater or films from society and politics.

"There must be some meaning for our time. And 'Morgan' does say something. But director Karel Riesz was able to make it palatable for the mass audience."

Mercer's second play, "Belcher's Luck,' received controversial comments after it was produced in London last winter. It's still being performed by Olivier's Royal Shakespeare Company. He's teaching a course in "Theater of the Absurd," at Humboldt, and supervising a production of "Belcher's Luck" there. It opens July 28 and runs through two weekends.

He lists "Morgan" as the third liberating film to shake-up complacent movie audiences. The first two were "Hard' Day's Night," and "The Knack."

"Theater of the Absurd," is so philosophically distasteful to me, except the work of Beckett whom I consider the Shakespeare of the Twentieth Century. It propagated the theory that everything is negative and meaningless, so why act. It has great metaphysical impact, but I believe we must act. And it ignores choice. We do have a choice in this world. I could have been a miner, like my father."

Pinter, he claims, is "our second best playwright, although he's exploited himself with his own mannerisms. Pinter insists that human's struggle for power, are divested of it, and his plays reflect the oscillations between acquiring and losing that power. He denies existentialism which proposes that every man can choose, even those who are down."

Mercer admits the students at Humboldt are "bewildered by me. They're marvelously receptive and interested, but not well informed."

He contends that "apart from Albee, hope in the American theater is non-existent. Out of 'Virginia Woolf,' will come great plays. His early things were pastiches, but he gathered himself together in 'Woolf.' Basically, it's what Strindberg was doing years before."

HE BECOMES QUITE VOLATILE over the condition of the British theater. "Larry Olivier is an actor, he shouldn't be in charge of the National Theater. The renaissance of London theater began with John Osborne's 'Look Back in Anger.' It's the first time the English class system was exploded, and the first time they saw real people walking around the stage talking like real people." "There's a disastrous trend in the English theater where a group of playwrights who wrote with a passionate, rebellious spirit had their truths and revelations digested by a later generation, and presented in more digestible and palatable form for middle class audiences. It's better than having no one in the theater at all since middle class audiences are the mass public, but it isn't the best.

"English society is what it is today, due to 'Look Back in Anger.' It triggered and exposed what they knew already, but they're now marginally more aware of themselves."

OUR OPINION

Is Secrecy Dead?

For probably as long as there has been a government bureaucrat, the issue of government secrecy versus the people's right to know has existed. As government bodies multiplied and expander, the right to public information became more abused.

Both the executive and legislative branches of the federal government today are guilty of conducting a large part of the public business behind closed doors.

Over the years various committees of Congress have investigated secrecy in government, with little success until last year. At that time, spearheaded by Rep. John E. Moss of California and Sen. Edward Long of Missouri, Congress passed a "Freedom of Information" law, which became effective July 4, 1967.

There are nine exceptions listed in the law, such as income tax returns, military secrets and raw investigation files. Everything else is supposed to be made public, either voluntarily or upon request.

Althougth the law is the most definitive thus far in determining what may or may not be withheld from the public, there are still areas which permit "room for more than one interpretation," according to Attorney General Ramsey Clark.

This time, however, the burden of proof is on the government. The muscle in the law provides that any citizen denied information by a government official may go to court to seek the data requested, and the burden of proof is on the government to show why the request should be denied.

As the attorney general said in a memo to all agencies, the new law imposes on the executive branch an "affirmative obligation to adopt new standards and practices." But the suspicion exists that it will require more than these words from the Justice Department, or the mere enactment of the law, to change the attitudes of buck-passing and cover-up which have become ingrained in the minds of many public officials.

Only by frequent testing of the law in the courts, and winning, can the average Joe Blow be sure his government is making public everything he is entitled to know as a measure of his birthright.

Closed Meeting

A CLOSED DOOR SESSION of the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees was scheduled for Monday and yesterday, probably to select a replacement for Peter Galinao, recently resigned trustee who has moved to Marin County. At the time of this writing no selection had been made public, but there's a lot of speculation on the subject. Among the names: Frank Monte, Dorothy Adams, Ray Masoni. . . .

☆ ☆ ☆

SICK CALL IN D.C. — Recreational Department (and school board trustee), Ed Tomesello's four-year-old son, Terry, in hospital at Oakland's Kaiser.

☆ ☆ ☆

SIGN OF THE TIMES — Appearing in the window of a North County restaurant: "Oh, What Food These Morsels Be."

☆ ☆ ☆

STICKS AND STONES, ETC. — But names will never hurt me. So we just continue to ignore the barbs which have been appearing in that local twice-weekly newspaper (??).

☆ ☆ ☆

STORY BEHIND THE STORY — The REAL reason Dick King (formerly with the San Bruno Chamber) resigned his post may never be revealed. But money was a big factor — He wanted more, they wanted to give less.

IF BOB ST. CLAIR thinks the dump over in Colma is a mess, he ought to meander over to South City's Oyster Point breeding ground and get a whiff of that? Or better yet, fly over the area and watch the "oil slick" gently floating out to sea polluting everything in its path. And they want to lay down yet another layer of garbage.

☆ ☆ ☆

IF THEY GET RID OF THAT so-called "Pig Pen" in Colma, how about the animal farm on the other of San Bruno Mountain — near the Cow Palace? It seems to us it would improve the image of D.C. to a heckuva lot of out-of-towners if they didn't have to skirt messes made in the Palace's parking lot, by wandering equistrians and bovines that stray down from the sourrounding area. They can go across the bridge to the country. Daly City IS a city (isn't it?).

☆ ☆ ☆

ASK FRED TAUTEHAHN where he spends his weekends and he'll quickly tell you "In the mountains, swimming, horseback riding and bar-b-quing." Fred, along with several North County businessmen, has purchased a 68-acre parcel of wild country in the Santa Cruz mountains, about an hour from the fog, and tamed it for dudes. (End of plug.)

☆ ☆ ☆

THE KISS OF DEATH — Minutes after we praise Dick King (mentioned earlier) bang, he's out of office. Last week, we told how energetic King was and how he's pushed San Bruno to the top of the heap. And while you were reading the article, King was handing in his resignation.

☆ ☆ ☆

DON'T THOSE SMART ALECY PUNKS who set grass fires, realize they might kill someone? Everytime a fireman has to jump on the back of a truck and race to a silly grass fire he's risking his neck. And what happens if one of these little fire bugs is caught? Practically nothing! A "tsk. tsk." and they're sent on their way home. What they oughta do is make these juvenile delinquents wash down a couple of fire trucks. Nuf said!

Within Sleep

A MAN CAN SURVIVE starvation for over three weeks, but three weeks' loss of sleep will make him act like a psychotic. A person reaching seventy has spent twenty years asleep.

"Within sleep," write Gay Gaer Luce and Julius Segal in their new book entitled "Sleep," "lie hidden many of the secrets of an individual's life." Recent experiments have shown that while one sleeps his brain develops many of the fundamental mechanisms involved in his moods and memory, in his learning and personality and in his sanity.

With this understanding experimental psychologists are using sleep as a means of curing diseases and of studying the functions of the brain and the body.

Indeed, scientists who are trying to forsee the problems of man in space are studying what happens in the minds of the astronauts while they sleep.

NEARLY EVERYONE develops sleep rituals — nightly acts that must be performed before one can sleep peacefully. In some people such rituals involve no more than winding a watch or saying a nightly prayer.

In many others, however, the sleep rituals are elaborate. Before sleeping Charles Dickens drew out his pocket compass and shoved the bed around until it was pointing due north so magnetic currents could pass through his body in a straight line.

Benjamin Franklin, on the other hand, couldn't sleep until his room was aired to the freezing point. Winston Churchill changed beds when the sheets on one got wrinkled.

Some scientists see in the actions of Franklin and Churchill a desire for freedom that was manifest in their waking hours. This same desire has been cited by some people as a reason for sleeping in the nude.

SLEEP RITUALS reveal attitudes towards sleep that begin to develop in infancy and are signs that are often ignored by parents.

Rceently the parents of a small girl were surprised to learn that their daughter can not sleep until she had wrapped four fingers in a sheet to form a mitt that she wets and rubs over her nose as she sinks into sleep.

Such rituals may be related to biological clocks in everyone whose cycles create moods and govern efficiency, strengths, and weaknesses. These clocks of life pace out the meters of our lives. They determine when the body will function smoothly, when it must eat, when it must sleep. They may be observed in all men and all animals.

THESE CLOCKS determine how much sleep a body must have to function properly. Yet there are people who teach that it is desireable to cut one's sleeping time to very few hours. They cite the examples of Thomas A. Edison and others. Today psychiatrists know that the amount of sleep that one needs differs with each person.

This was demonstrated by disc jockeys who stayed awake 250 hours. Their lack of sleep led to illusions, to the loss of their mental and physical agility and finally to a loss of their ability to act or think rationally.

Miss Luce and Mr. Segal have produced a book that has been called a remarkable piece of work. Each of its twelve chapters rewards the reader for the time he spends with them.

Look Out for Switch

Look out for "bait and switch" advertising, where you're offered an attractive item that the seller has no intention of letting you buy.

The salesman accomplishes the "switch" by "knocking" the advertised product by saying, "The advertised article has been already sold out in a presale," "It won't work," or, "I just happen to have another, better make in the car."

An example of a "bait" ad is when an ad offers a well-known brand of merchandise at a ridiculously low price, giving what appears to be a private address or the telephone number of a private individual. It is usually the address and telephone number of a salesman for the seller. When the buyer becomes very interested and nibbles at the "bait," the salesman withdraws the "bait" and brings out what appears to be a much more attractive piece of merchandise. If the salesman is "supercharged", he will successfully switch the buyer to the more expensive deal.

Another example of "bait" advertising is to advertise a real bargain on a new piece of merchandise. The ad does not give the manufacturer's name, model year or model number, but the buyer assumes it is the latest model of a nationally known brand. He dashes to the department of the advertised article to be told that the stock has been completely sold out because of the big demand. However, he is told, there is sufficient stock in a deluxe model at a slightly higher price.

"Bait and switch" advertising and selling are in violation of Section 17,500 of the Business and Professions Code. There should be sufficient stock on hand in the stores to take care of advertised items; otherwise "bait advertising" is suspected.

In the case of the advertisement offering a well-known article for sale and giving what appears to be a private address or telephone number, the ad should show the dealer's name unless it is a bona fide individual private party. Beware of any deal where your name and address is taken and you are called back by the salesman.

Sometimes the words "take over payments" or "respossessed" are used to imply that a private party is in distress. If "repossessed" is used or implied, the seller should be able to prove that it is a legal repossession and not a used machine or trade-in that is being sold. Insist upon this proof. If it is a "take over payment" deal, check over the defaulted contract to see what and how many payments you are taking over.

Traffic Problems

City and county officials last week got a traffic preview of San Mateo County in 1969 with two new junior colleges in operation in San Bruno and Woodside, and more than a million visitors streaming to the attractions of Marine World near Belmont.

It will not be a pretty picture without the diligent efforts of a fistful of new committees set up by the Greater Highways Committee to cope with these three new facilities as well as the coming State College behind Redwood City and expansion at International Airport.

College of San Mateo President Julio Bortolazzo told members that both new junior colleges are currently under construction with a late 1968 opening planned for Canada College at Woodside and completion of work in San Bruno set for 1969.

In the north county, Bortolazzo said, the junior college district has purchased right of way for four lanes of traffic both from Skyline Boulevard and Sharp Park Road to provide access to the new San Bruno campus.

Westlake Bowling Finals

Westlake Pizza rolled their way to victory over all opponents in the recently completed Westlake Merchants League held at the Westlake Bowl in Daly City.

Crocker Citizens Bank finished second on the final night of the 12-week league, taking all four games away from The Post team.

Bob Aring (Crocker Bank) held High Game for the league with a smashing 245, while Dolores Langford (Bank of America) walked off with trophies for High Game of 207 for women and High Series of 530.

High Series for men went to Louie Perna with a 603.

The Merchants plan to hold another league starting late this Fall, a spokesman said.

Woman Hurt In Collision

An elderly San Francisco woman, Rose Anderson, 74, of 2936 Anza, was injured Sunday when her car collided with one driven by Clotilde Schroeder Mape, 72, of 481 Seville Way, San Mateo.

The victim was taken to Peninsula Hospital for treatment.

San Bruno police said the Mape auto was northbound on Junipero Serra Boulevard at 11:55 a.m. when the Anderson car apparently made a left turn from the southbound fast lane of Junipero Serra to go east onto Sneath Lane, against a red left-turn lane signal.

Bruno's Judo Team 'Best'

10-Year-Old Golda Wins His Division

By DON GRIERSON

George Golda, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Golda of Millbrae, is not only the toughest kid on his block, but also the National AAU judo champion in the 10-year-old division.

After three years as Northern California champion in his age group, George achieved the pinnacle of recognition for his prowess earlier this month in the junior national finals at Denver.

A member of the 11-man junior division team from Cahill's Judo Academy in San Bruno, which won this year's national championship for individual schools, George defeated the boy who eliminated him in the finals last year and the year before.

"George finished third in the national competition as an eight-year-old, then moved up to second place as a nine-year-old," his teacher, black belt holder Willy Cahill said.

"This kid from back east has a low-hold throw that worked every time, until this year," the instructor said.

After his defeat in the 1966 finals, George spent weeks perfecting a new throw developed by Cahill and specifically designed to thwart the style of "the kid back east."

"George is fast and he's strong," Cahill said, "and the new throw worked beautifully."

In performing the throw, George begins with the same movement involved in an upright over-the-head toss, but drops to the mat on one knee at the last instant.

(He demonstrated the throw on a couple of 16 year olds at the academy this week, smashing both to the mat with resounding wallops.")

All 11 members of the Cahill team made the semi-finals at the national tournament, held over the Fourth of July weekend, and the academy is the first school ever to accomplish this in a national competition.

David Firkens, a small but wiry nine-year-old, took second place in his division, and nine-year-old David Johnson captured a third place in the tournament.

All the team members qualified for the Denver competition, by eliminating their rivals in Northern California finals. There were more than 400 contestants in the national tournament, which was open to boys nine through 16.

Cahill, who operates the academy with his brother Ben Cahill, has held a black belt for several years and is a former instructor for the U.S. Army. He began learning judo from his father at the age of 10 in his native Hawaii. The family has operated a school here since 1949.

He is justifiably proud of the students on his championship team, but frequently reminds them of the first premise in the International Ju-Jitsu Society creed: humility.

Assisting him in teaching humility is a 12-year-old girl enrolled at the academy, Allison Allen, who has beaten nine of the 11 members of the championship team.

"Regretably, girls are not allowed to participate in tournaments," the instructor said.

S.S.F. Man Is Injured

A South San Francisco man was injured Wednesday afternoon in a four-car pile-up on El Camino Real, police reported.

Benjamin Day Jr., 544 Railroad Avenue, was admitted for treatment of multiple injuries at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

Police said the wreck occurred about 130-feet south of the Second Street intersection when the brakes on a car driven by Thomas M. Donovan, 124 Nyla Street, South San Francisco, apparently failed.

The Donovan vehicle struck the rear of another car and started the pile-up.

The other two drivers involved were Irma Penna, 124 Cypress Avenue, San Bruno, and William J. Delucchi, 465 Redwood Avenue, San Bruno.

Three Cal Pitchers

If any of you saw or heard young Chicago Cub left-hander Rich Nye—barely out of U.C. at Berkeley—beat the Giants almost as he pleased, recently, allow us to inform you that there's more where he came from.

Don't panic, fans. The guys we have in mind aren't quite in the majors, yet, and of the three, one's in the American League and one belongs to the Giants.

We're writing about Bill Frost, Andy Messersmith, and Larry Colton, all pitching proteges of Cal coach George Wolfman.

Messersmith, Frost and Nye all pitched on the same Cal team, and has been well publicized, Nye was number three pitcher behind Messersmith, who has since signed with the Angels, and Frost, who was the Giants' number one draft pick last year.

WHY THE INCONGRUITY? Has Nye improved that much? Have the other two gone downhill? Did Wolfman goof?

Nye of the above are the correct answers. As Nye himself was the first to publicly admit, he just happened to be in the right place at the right time. Leo Durocher's been going with a youth movement, especially in the pitching department, and then the Cubbies really got desperate for a lefty starter when Ken ice.

As Wolfman points out, Nye's style of delivery hasn't changed appreciably from when he pitched at Cal, nor have his basic weapons: a moving, "sneaky" fast ball, good curve and fine change off the curve, brains, poise, and low-ball control. The only real difference, says Wolfman, is that Rich is now throwing the fast ball more frequently. That's a unique switch on the usual pattern of the hard throwing kid out of college reverting to junk when he hits the majors and learns that he can't overpower everybody.

Nye, who lasted until the 14th round on last June's draft, has already been called another Howie Pollet. Rich is making good after only less than half a previous season in pro ball: seven games in the Pioneer Rookie League with Treasure Valley, nine with Lodi in the Class A California League, and three with the Cubs at the tail-end of last season. He lost both his starts with Chicago, but allowed only four runs in 17-innings while not getting any scored for him.

One large question remains. If Nye is accomplishing all this by pitching more or less the same way he pitched at Cal, and if he was only number three there, how good must Messersmith and Frost be?

"Good enough, to make the biggies and stick," says Wolfman unhestitatingly.

MESSERSMITH, who has probably the best fast ball of the three (plus a good curve, fair change and adequte control) and is, says Wolfman, a gutty competitor ("He drives a hard bargain."), had a great sophomore season at Cal, but made the tactical blunder of signing after a so-so junior year, when his control went sour.

"He just had one of those bad years all pitchers have," says Wolfman, who, as a coach, understandably feels he should have played out his senior year, but who as founder and president of Noel Associates, a San Francisco advertising firm, also knows the value of proper showcasing for full marketing value. "The decision to sign after a bad season cost him a lot of money."

The Angels, of course, knew that a season does not a pitcher make. Big league teams always go on a youngster's potential. A spectacular prep and-or collegiate record can be distorted. But when they sign a boy, they don't let him in of their little scouting secrets. When he asks for a bundle, they throw his bad year up in his face.

Despite his mediocre year at Cal, Messersmith finished up last season with Seattle and looked good. He's working this year with El Paso in the Class AA Texas League.

Frost has just finished a hitch in the Coast Guard. His best pitch is an excellent slider. He also has a good fast one, a fair curve and change and good control. He reversed Messersmith's pattern. In his soph year he had plenty of stuff, but was wild and lost confidence. During the summer he pitched semi-pro ball in Boulder, Colorado, and found himself. He came back for a great junior year and signed with the Giants for a good bonus. Another hard worker, last year Bill pitched at Fresno in regular rotation while working on his degree at Cal. He'd drive to Fresno after morning classes and also pitched weekends.

NYE, INCIDENTALLY, is a soul mate of Washington first sacker and another of Wolfman's boys, the heralded Mike Epstein. Both Nye and Epstein pack books in their traveling bags.

Epstein's intellectuality, especially during spring training, was almost as much written about by the sports writers as his big bat.

"Mike's a real intelligent boy," says Wolfman, "and is always studying. But I think he's trying to play the part of a baseball Gene Tunney, build an image. But this bit about his taking high class books all over with him is the truth. We had lunch together the day before Baltimore traded him, and one of the things he didn't approve of in baseball is these guys sitting around between games wasting time. He's always reading something or doing something to better himself.

"But Mike is having fun with these sports writers, and they're swallowing it, hook, line and sinker."

There's nothing else about Epstein, however, which is remotely ingenuine, insists Wolfman. His minor league credentials are fantastic, and Wolfman feels Epstein's for real.

"In all my years of coaching high school and college, I've never had a kid who worked any harder or hustled more than Mike. You've heard the expression, the first one out and the last one in? Well, in Mike's case it's doubled in spades. They tell me right now, in Washington, it's the same. He's working, working all the time. He's always trying to help himself. He's a perfectionist."

While Wolfman is justifiably proud of having coached these young men — he modestly disclaims any credit for their successes — he still mourns the ones who got away and still are getting away.

Cincinnati's Jim Maloney was once on the Cal campus, but never went out for baseball. He ended up back at Fresno City College, and everybody knows what happened after that. Baltimore's Curt Motton, called up after Frank Robinson's injury, had also been on campus, having transferred from Santa Rosa JC. But he signed before he got a chance to go out for baseball.

Pacifica Summer League

The Tigers, with a 6-1 record, continue to lead the American League standings in the Pacifica Recreation Department's summer league play this week.

The league leaders retained the first place position in a close battle last Wednesday, squeaking by the Senators, 9-8, behind the hitting of Judson Fisher and Tony Ficken.

The Dodgers, at 3-0, were leading the Pacific Coast League last week, and the Padres, at 10-1, remain well ahead of the second place Rainers in the Skyline League.

The Padres smashed the third place Bees last Wednesday, 11-6. The winners scored ten runs in the last two innings, with Dave Trammel and Carle Welch gathering most of the hits.

In the International League, the Bisons retained their lead and a perfect 6-0 record in defeating the sixth place Rams.

Penny Carnivals At 3 Daly City Recreation Parks

The Daly City Recreation Department is sponsoring its annual Penny Carnival this week, starting with Marchbanks Park, from noon to 3 p.m. today.

Tomorrow the carnival will move to Westmoor Park and on Friday it will be sited at Lincoln Park.

The carnival, a recreation department spokesman pointed out, is directed at the seven to 12-year-old level.

Last week, reality was left behind as 300 little girls and boys entered the enchanted world of Childrn's Fairyland in Oakland. The greatest pleasure came from the always popular Fairyland Puppet Theatre. The youngsters mixed squealing ecstacy with equally gay sounds of delight as they viewed the old-time favorite, Pinocchio.

"Fun in the Sun" was another special event.

Over 600 youngsters "vacationed" for a day at the Marin Town and Country Club, just over the Marin Hills in Fairfax.

Georgette Kleinheinz, Danny Holcomb Wed

Georgette Christine Kleinheinz and Danny N. Holcomb recited their marriage vows Saturday at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church. She is the daughter of Georgia Hope Kleinheinz and William C. Kleinheinz. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cash.

For the 3 p.m. ceremony, Georgette chose a white floor-length gown with a fitted bodice and tiered bouffant skirt and carried orchids in her bouquet.

Inez Rebarber was Georgette's honor attendant in a peacock blue floor-length dress and peacock blue flowers. The bridesmaids, Linda Kleinheinz, sister of the bride, and Karen Maxwell, wore rose-colored satin with rose-colored flowers. Gina Kleinheinz was her sister's flower girl in pale pink with pale pink flowers.

William Walter stood with Danny as best man, and Bill Kleinheinz, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. Kleinheinz received guests at the reception in Daly City in a fitted orange dress.

The bride is a graduate of Jefferson High school and has another brother, Eric Kleinheinz. Her husband attended Douglas County High School and is the brother of Robert and George Brock and Jeanette, Ann, and John Cash Jr.

The couple will live in Atlanta, Ga. Special guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Kretz Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Chris McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Keeler, and George Constantine Sr.

THE DANNY N. HOLCOMBS (Georgette C. Kleinheinz)

THE ARRIVAL OF FALL will mean that Linda Dyar will be arriving, with fresh eagerness and lively intellect on the campus of San Francisco State College to begin the task of obtaining a secondary credential in history, and though she doesn't expect to be too active in extra curricular programs, it would be hard to imagine Linda, with all her energy, not a part of school government.

When Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dyar moved to Pacifica two years ago with their children, Linda, now 18, and Debbie and Steve, now 14 and 11, and enrolled Linda in Terra Nova High School, she was already an outstanding student who had served as vice president of her freshman class and president of her sophomore class at Delano High School, in Delano, California. The change of venue did not change the pattern that she had established for her high school years and she immediately became a part of the Terra Nova Community.

During her two years at the coastside high school Linda has been a member of the car wash committees, the junior ring committees, the junior prom committee, the rally club, the Future Teachers of America, the California Scholarship Federation, the Speech Club and the National Forensic League as well as a member of the Press Club, editor of yearbook and feature editor of Tiger Tales, the school publication. As involved with school activities as she has always remained, her grades have been among the highest in the school and during graduation ceremonies her gown was adorned with the Gold Cord, indicative of her being one of the top-ten scholars in the class.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES were proud, but not surprised to see her awarded the Bank of America award for Social Studies, The Daughters of the American Revolution Award, a life membership in the C.S.F. and the $200 Laguna Salada Education Association scholarship.

Linda views college as a totally different type of experience and she will miss the friends she had a Terra Nova.

"I've made several close friends who I may not see much of in the days ahead and I'll miss them. Also, I'll miss a chance to participate in school government. At college it is much more difficult to engage in extra-curricular activities due to the large number of students. I also plan to work hard on getting good grades," Linda said.

Linda who adheres to an ideology not unlike that found in Proverbs 11:14, "Where no counsel is, the people fall: but in the multitude of counsellors there is safety," hopes to be able to counsel young high schoolers in such a way that they will be personally impelled to continue their education.

"A woman, nowadays, plays a much bigger role than just a housewife," she explains. "In some families she may be called on to supplement the family income. If she has a good college education, a good position is easily obtained.

"WOMEN ARE PLAYING a more active part in the politics of the nation. A local example is Mrs. Jean Fassler," Linda continued. "For myself, I hope to become a teacher so that I may persuade more students to continue on with their education in colleges. Through a college education comes better citizens and isn't the saying, 'the youth of today are tomorrow's leader'?" she concluded.

Linda, whose hobbies are collecting coins and playing tennis, (she was a member of the Delano High School tennis team,) will spend the summer working to earn money for a trip to Hawaii, where she can enjoy a bit of tennis and some surfside relaxation before beginning her college career in Septembr. She does not plan to be as active, socially in college as she was in high school, but she has always been in the middle of the action and Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote, "Action is the raw material out of which the intellect moulds her splendid products. A strange process too, this, by which experience is converted into thought, as a mulberry is converted to satin. The manufacture goes on at all hours."

Newlyweds Honeymoon In Canada

Canada was the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. William Charles Fritz (Heidi Lynn Stanley) who were married recently at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in San Bruno.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart J. Stanley of San Bruno who hosted the post-nuptial reception and luncheon at the Hilton Inn. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delos Fritz of Belmont.

Heidi recited her wedding vows in a peau de soie dress appliqued with lace and pearls. She carried orchids on a prayer book which had belonged to her great-grandmother and was carried by her mother.

Marcy Stanley was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Cheryl Cuneo and Peggy Zimmerman. They all wore floor-length green linen dresses.

Marie Billici, the flower girl, wore green and white organdy. Michael Billici was the ring bearer.

Paul Benold stood with William as best man, and guests were seated by Dave Robertson and Allen Levy.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marcy of New York City, Heidi's grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Horgan of North Hollywood and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wallace of Woodland Hills, her aunts and uncles.

The new matron has a brother, Mark Stanley. She attended Capuchino High School and the College of San Mateo.

William attended Carlmont High School, CSM, and San Jose State. He is the brother of Mrs. Raymond Billici of Redwood City; Teresa McIntyre of Long Beach, and Jean Fritz of San Mateo.

The couple is living in San Jose.

Free D.C. Bowling Lessons

In ccoperation with the Westlake Bowl, the Daly City Recreation Department will offer local children, between eight and 12 years old, a chance to learn and practice bowling at no cost.

Recreation Director Charles Vincent disclosed that the four-week program, consisting of eight lessons and practice sessions and practice sessions, will be offered to 150 youngsters, who must register in advance.

The sessions will be at Westlake Bowl on Wednesdays and Fridays at 10 a.m., beginning August 2 and ending August 25.

Vincent said the children will be "expected to attend the eight sessions, if possible," adding that an instructor will be provided for every eight children.

"The purpose of this program," said Vincent, "is to teach children to bowl properly and interest them in an activity in which they can participate throughout their lives."

Tasty Chicken

Greetings, gals, interested in some new ideas for dinner? I guess the idea that would interest us most would be for our husbands to take us out to dinner. In case that idea hasn't occurred to your lord and master, here are some recipes that will make any dinner at home a tasty treat.

Today's column will feature chicken. No matter how we cook chicken, in a casserole, gussied up with mushrooms and sour cream, or fried in the oven, it makes a delicious meal. And it has the added attraction of being one of the less expensive estrees.

This first recipe for Chicken Tortella Casserole comes from Mrs. Hamilton Clark in Los Angeles. It is easy to mix and fix and the result is a delicious dish.

CHICKEN TORTELLA CASSEROLE

3 chicken breasts
½ doz. corn tortillas
1 can crea of mushroom soup
½ cup milk
¼ cup chopped onion
½ lb. cheddar cheese, grated
1 small can green chili salsa

Wrap the three chicken breasts in foil and bake in 350-degree oven for one hour. Cool and debone. Then cut into small pieces. Reserve two tablespoons of drippings.

Cut the six tortillas into one-inch squares. Add the two tablespoons chicken drippings and mix with cut up chicken.

Combine the one can of mushroom soup and the one-half cup milk. Blend this into the chicken and tortillas along with the one-half cup cheddar cheese, one-fourth cup chopped onion, and the small can of chili salsa.

Let this dish stand in the refrigerator for 24 hours. Put in buttered casserole and bake about one hour in 325-degree oven.

A nice accompaniment would be a fruit salad and hot rolls or French bread.

The ladies of St. Perpetual's Church in Lafayette have compiled a cookbook that is just full of delicious-sounding recipes. Not only delicious sounding, but also delicious tasting, judging by this chicken with almonds.

CHICKEN BREASTS WITH ALMONDS

6 large chicken breasts
1 teasp. salt
¼ teas. pepper
¼ teas. paprika
4 Tbsp. butter
1 Tbsp. instant minced onion
1-16 teas. garlic powder
¾ cup white wine
¾ cup fresh mushrooms
1 cup sour cream
½ cup toasted, blanched almond halves

Sprinkle the six chicken breasts with the teaspoon salt, one-fourth each pepper and paprika. Melt two tablespoons of butter in a baking dish, roll chicken in it to coat, and then arrange skin side down, bake in 400-degree oven for 20 minutes or until brown. Turn chicken.

Combine the one tablespoon onion, one-sixteenth teaspoon garlic powder and ½-cup white wine. Pour over chicken. Bake 40 minutes longer or until tender.

Meanwhile saute the ¾-cup mushrooms in the remaining two tablespoons butter. Add drippings from chicken, one cup sour cream and remaining ¼-cup white wine. Heat slowly, stirring until well-blended. Add ¼-cup almonds. Transfer chicken to serving dish. Top with sauce and the remaining almonds. Serves six.

From Kentucky comes this recipe for fried chicken. It's delicious and the title of the recipe also describes the method of cooking.

IRON SKILLET FRIED CHICKEN

1 frying chicken, cut up
½ cup buttermilk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon savory salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
1½ cups self-rising flour

Place the cut-up fryer in the ½-cup of buttermilk which has been seasoned with the ½-teaspoon salt, ¼-teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon savory salt and ¼ teaspoon paprika. Move chicken pieces around in the milk and seasonings to be sure they are well-coated.

Put 1½ cups self-rising flour (more about that later) in a paper bag. Flour each piece separately and take gently from bag to hold the flour.

Fry ten minutes in one-half-inch hot grease, turning only once. Use iron skillet.

Right here I want to say that unless you have the world's largest iron skillet you are not going to be able to fit all the pieces in at once. So do as I did, fry part, remove to a dish and fry the rest.

After browning, place all the chicken in the skillet. (You can crowd it all you please now.) Place the skillet in the oven. No lid please. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Remove from oven and drain well on paper towels.

Delicious!

Now for that chat about self-rising flour. Self-rising flour is all-purpose flour which contains salt and a leavening agent, usually bicarbonate of soda and calcium phosphate. This type of flour is not used so much in this area as most of us use regular all-purpose flour and add our own leavening. As I mentioned before, this recipe comes from Kentucky where self-rising flour is more popular.

Not having any self-rising flour on hand, I made my own by adding one teaspoon of soda and ½-teaspoon salt to the 1½ cups flour.

I used only soda and salt, as the recipe called for buttermilk and also this was not as delicate a job as baking a cake and the leavening didn't have to be so carefully measured.

The chicken turned out perfectly so I feel my estimate of the leavening was right.

Have fun with your chicken dinners this week, girls, next week I have some interesting cake recipes to share with you.

Family Life

Dorothy Getchel, Lt. Louis Rolla Exchange Vows

The former Dorothy Ruth Getchel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Getchel Jr., 145 Ashland Drive, Daly City, and Lt. Louis J. Rolla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Rolla of Redwood City, exchanged vows June 2 at Mt. Carmel Church.

A reception at the Redwood City Elks' Club followed the wedding.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and Miss Elaine Roccos was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Veach and Mrs. Floran Kedic.

Dianne Getchel was flower girl.

James P. Homan was best man, and Ed Cardona, Bob Plant, Bob Kerr, and Donald Getchel served as ushers.

Tre bride's ensemble included a veil handmade by her mother, with lily of the valley, and a long flowing train. She wore a semi-"A" dress with a train from the shoulders and lace sleeves.

The brides' mother wore a white pearled orchid on a sinking peacock blue ensemble with matching accessories.

The couple will live in Washington, D.C., after a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe.

Art on Display At South S.F. Civic Center

The Burlingame Art Society is showing paintings by Marta Deming at the Civic Center Library in South San Francisco. A winner of many awards. the artist has had numerous one woman shows throughout the Bay Area. The current exhibit includes colored landscapes and still-life and will continue through September 1.

Mrs. Deming is a charter member of the Society of Western Artists and a graduate of the Famous Artist School. The 10 paintings may be seen during library hours and are for sale.

THE DALY CITY Community Chorus, under the direction of accompanist Janet Holden, won Second Place trophy in the recent Broadmoor Homeowners Fourth of July Parade. Chorus members were derssed in red, white and blue costumes for the event. D.C. Recreation director Chuck Vincent (center) is shown presenting Chorus Director Dennis Desjardins, (far right), with the trophy. Looking on are (left to right), accompanist Holden, Barbara Schori, and float designer Marcene Espinoza. (Post Photo)

Temple Judea Awards Given

Special awards were presented to four members of the Confirmation Class at Temple Judea.

One Board of Trustees' Award to the best students of the year for scholarship, leadership, and service went to Sanford Rabinowitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Rabinowitch, 269 Wilshire Drive, Daly City.

One of two Judea Brotherhood's Samuel I. Hafner Awards, presented for excellence in scholarship over the past 10 years, was given to Charles Freiberg,, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Freiberg of 30 Village Lane, Colma.

San Bruno Home For Nelwyweds

Four attendants gowned in yellow preceded Constance Jean Petersen to the altar of St. Robert's Catholic Church where she was married recently to Salvatore John Abbate.

Constance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anton Petersen of Millbrae, had Helen Eastman of Millbrae as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jan Mitchell, Arnelle Tremain, and Michelle Pabst, all of Millbrae. Their organza cages were floor length and appliqued with daisies. Moss green velvet ribbons were entwined in their hair and fell from a bow to the floor.

The bride wore a floor length organza cage appliqued with Venise lace in a daisy motif and with seed pearls. The gown was styled with a scoop neckline and long sleeves and a Watteau train.

Salvatore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Abbate of San Bruno, asked his brother, Michael, to be his bestman. Ushers were another brother, Angelo, Richard Bird of Monterey, and Stanley Pullo of San bruno.

Guests included Mrs. Paul Woodburn of Walnut Creek, Constance's grandmother, and Mrs. Angelo Barone of South San Francsico, Salvatore's grandmother.

The wedding was followed by a garden reception. from there, the couple left for a wedding trip to Carmel and Southern California. They will live in San Bruno.

Constance is the sister of Herbert Petersen, Jr., of Belmont and Robert C. Petersen of Millbrae. She attended Mills High School and the College of San Mateo.

Salvatore studied at Balboa High School and City College of San Francisco.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE

DON'T HAVE A DEFEATIST ATTITUDE ABOUT YOUR ROOMS

When many people look around the the rooms in their homes, they aren't satisfied with the way the rooms are decorated. They get a defeatist attitude and would like to get rid of everything, start from scratch and do a complete refurnishing job.

That would be fine, but many people can't afford to do that.

There are easier and more practical solutions.

You don't have to have a defeatist attitude and you don't have to have a fortune of money to decorate your home the way you'd like it.

Here are just a few ideas on how to revitalize your home with a minimum of expense.

For example, if you're dissatisfied with the appearance of your bedroom, you may discover that simply adding a new, colorful boudoir chair and a matching bedspread can transform your bedroom.

You can improve a living room by adding one outstanding new thing — perhaps a new table or lamp or chair and complementing it with a few well-chosen accessories.

Remember, if you can't afford to get everything you want at one time, or if you can't find everything you like at once, you can still improve your rooms by buying a piece at a time.

And, let us leave you with one more thought. If you visit us, we'll be happy to give you the benefit of a lifetime of experience and help you solve your decorating problems.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience or call PL 6-7500.

Miss Tate To Open D.C. Day

Lovely Sandra Tate, Miss Daly City and first runner-up to his year's Fiesta Dream Girl, will open Daly City Day at the 33rd annual San Mateo County Fair and Floral fiesta, Thursday, August 3.

Local civic leaders and city officials, including A. J. Gaggero, member of the Fair & Convention Association board of directors, and race director for the Fair, will be among those honored in special ceremonies at the new Fiesta Bowl outdoor theatre.

SANDA TATE
Miss Daly City

The Fair and Fiesta opens next Monday, July 31, at 6 p.m. and runs through August 12, with regular hours from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Highlighting the day's activities will be Fiesta Bowl entertainment, starring Bob Ralston, popular pianist and organist of the Lawrence Welk Show, in 4 and 9 p.m. performances.

Local talent appearing in Fiesta Bowl performances will be the Daly City Gymnasts at 2 p.m., the Shipley-Smith Dance Theatre at 6:30, and the Daly City Community Choir appearing at 8 p.m.

Local 4-H youngsters are among hundreds of 4-H'ers who are eagerly awaiting the Junior Livestock Auction and Fat Sale at 1 p.m. on Thursday, August 3 (Daly City Day). Only those beef and lamb entries judged top-quality will be presented for sale, bringing cash rewards to youngsters who have spent an entire year preparing their animals for Fair judging.

Daly City housewives and 4-H members are also vying for blue ribbons with freshly baked pies, cakes and breads, sewing exhibits and preserved fruits and vegetables entered in Home Arts Competition.

This year's Fair & Fiesta, "Designs for Living," will feature an unusual exhibition of innovations for home and family living in the new "Theme Building." Continuous lectures and demonstrations, including twice daily fashion shows and home furnishing and decorating ideas, will be of interest to Daly City residents.

Pipe Band To Be Fair Highlight

An authentic pipe band, complete with bagpipes and drums, will highlight a full schedule of military band concerts at the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta July 31 through August 12.

The Stuart Highlanders, with 10 bagpipers and six drummers, will be dressed in full highland regalia and will pipe marches, reels, slow marches and strathpeys (highland dances).

The Stuart Highlanders come from several different countries, including the United States, Canada, Great Britain and of all places, Italy.

Members are from the Peninsula from San Francisco to Sunnyvale. In spite of the difficulties that this distance involves, the pipers manage to rehearse often and have won many awards for performances in parades and other exhibitions.

Other marching units playing at the Fair and Floral Fiesta, July 31 through August 12, will include the Fort Ord Marching Band, Tuesday, August 1; the 22nd Army Band from Oakland Army Base, Thursday, August 3; and the 12th Naval District Band from San Francisco, Saturday, August 12.

The Stuart Highlanders Pipe Band will perform Sunday, August 6, followed by the 6th United States Army Band from the San Francisco Presidio, Wednesday, August 9.

Planting 'No Man's Land'

The parking strip is sort of a no-man's landscape in most neighborhoods, a narrow, hard-to-work-with area between street and sidewalk. Some people are fortunate enough not to be inflicted with a parking strip, but most of us who dwell in cities and towns have to fight the battle.

One solution is to pave it over, but unless this is done imaginatively with brick or aggregate and redwood, it can be an eyesore, better than weeds, perhaps, but not a thing of beauty. A better solution is to plant it with one of the low-growing ground covers that will discourage weeds and look fresh and presentable throughout the year.

The junipers are most widely used in this respect. The old standby is Tamarix juniper, but you might want to check out some of the newer spreading junipers being offered now by members of the California Association of Nurserymen. The variety "Silver Spreader," is ideal for a parkway. Another good choice would be the San Jose juniper.

Onramental strawberry also makes an attractive, trim parkway planting. Its white blooms and decorative fruit are visible through many months of the year. There are some of these ornamental strawberries that produce edible fruit. Ask your nurseryman about them.

The prostrate abelia, a grond-hugging newcomer to the abelia family, needs more publicity, for it is an excellent shrub. The new growth is tinged with red and the white blooms are in evidence for several months in summer. Use this newcomer wherever you need a ground or bank cover, especially in the parkway.

And lastly, the berried cotoneaster family offers two possibilities for the parkway.

$4 Million County Loss In School Aid

The failure of San Mateo County to keep its property assessments at a high level, coupled with passage of Assembly Bill 272, could cost the county as much as $4 million a year in state school equalization aid, according to Thomas Fletcher, assistant county superintendent of schools.

The State Board of Equalization notified the county yesterday that according to its calculations tangible property in San Mateo County is being assessed at an average of 21.9 per cent of market value, not the 25 per cent the assessor's office claimed.

For purposes of allocation of equalization aid, the ratio of assessed value to market value in each county is converted into "factors." Generally speaking, the lower the ratio, the higher the factor.

Because of the state board's finding, the factor for San Mateo County this year is 1.05. It does not necessarily mean that a special tax will be levied, however, because the factor is based on a three-year average. That is where AB 272 comes in.

A provision of the proposed legislation would do away with the three-year average and base the allocation of equalization aid on only the current year's factor. In the case of San Mateo County, the three-year average factor is .94, compared with the current year's 1.05.

Thus, if the measure should pass, San Mateo County would lose what Fletcher calculates to be about $4 million, and a county-wide tax would have to be levied to make up the difference.

Last year and in 1965 the state-fixed ratio of assessed value to market value in San Mateo County was 24.7 per cent and the equalization factors were .89 and .88.

Assistant Assessor Marion Fawcett said the office will not disput the state figure for this year although the county assesses all property at 25 per cent of market value he explained it is impossible to keep current with inflationary pressures on each and every parcel.

When state appraisers make their sampling they examine a few parcels whose value are not up to date with the results that the state ratio is lower than the counties.

Fawcett said hopefully that there will be no need in boosting general property values to meet the state requirement that all property be assessed at true market value.

He explained that a 15 per cent tolerance is allowed and that the 21.9 ratio figure falls within the tolerance. Anything below 21.7 per cent would not meet the state mandate.

Constant re-appraisal programs are going on in an effort to keep the values as current as possible, Fawcett.

DREAM GIRL MEETS FILM STAR—Film star Karen Jensen (left), Dream Girl of 1961 and former Miss San Carlos, congratulates the newly crowned Fiesta Dream Girl, Jacquie Dwyer of Redwood City. Jacquie will reign over the 1967 Fair and Floral Fiesta at the San Mateo County Fairgrounds, July 31 to August 12. Karen, who made a special appearance during Fiesta Pageant festivities, now lives in Hollywood and has appeared in several feature-length films for Universal Pictures and in television roles.

S.M. Patients In New Kidney Center

Two San Mateo County patients, Jay Meyers, 44, certified public accountant, of Millbrae, and Philip Barnett, 15, of Pacifica, are among the four patients at the new artificial kidney center for victims of irreversible kidney disease at San Francisco General Hospital.

The center operates on a budget of about $500,000 from federal, state and private sources, said co-director Dr. Frank A. Gotch.

He explained that the cost of treating a patient at the center, cleansing his blood two or three times a week with the artificial kidney, costs $8,000 to $10,000 a year. Without such treatment, the patient will die.

Gotch estimates 200 to 250 patients in California need artificial kidney treatment.

Young Barnett, one of seven children of a Negro widow who works as a health aide for San Mateo County, is a student at Oceana High School. He has a summer job—cleaning the center's four dialysis machines (artificial kidneys) in between his own treatment periods.

Gotch estimates the center will have 35 to 40 patients under treatment within a year, most of them being trained to use dialysis machines at home. A machine costs about $6,500.

Money Taken At Nursery

Burglars who were more partial to the green of money than the potted plants around them, took $150 in cash, an adding machine and a camera from the Crestmoor Garden Center late Friday or early Saturday.

The store, located at the corner of Skyline Boulevard and San Bruno Avenue, was entered thorugh a sliding glass door that was pried open.

None of the nursery stock apparently was taken, police said.

$380 Funds Are Stolen

Approximately $380 in cash was stolen from a South San Francisco residence last week while the family was away on vacation, police reported.

Officers said the money was taken from the Erris Court residence of Francis J. Prendergast.

Entrance to the house was gained through a rear bedroom window.

A combination radio and stereo tape player was stolen from an automobile on Hillside Avenue sometime Thursday morning, police said.

The equipment, taken from a car belonging to Anthony G. Rezendes, 18, of 1035 Hillside, was valued at about $150.

August Scout Journey

Led by Hilda Eversole, some 24 Girl Scouts of Daly City-Colma Troop 8 will leave International Airport on August 19 for a nine-day tour of east coast historic sites.

The group will be chaperoned by Mrs. William Laskutoff, Mrs. Fred Vollers, Mrs. David Hatfield, Mrs. Al Jackson, and Mrs. Tom Parish.

The girls earned two-thirds of their expense money by holding a variety of sales and drives in the area, a spokesman said.

After a five-day stay in Washington, D.C., where they will visit President Kennedy's gravesite, Senate buildings, the Capitol, and the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, the girls will leave for New York.

In New York they will visit St. Patrick's Cathedral, the Statue of Liberty, and the famed Rockettes' dancing troupe.

$1,000 Fire In Daly City

An overheated frying pan touched off a fire which heavily damaged the kitchen of a home at 251 Polaris Street, Wednesday, Daly City firement report.

Owner of the home estimated the damage from the fire and smoke at more than $1,000.

Bus Service Rehearing Is Denied

The California Public Utilities Commission has denied rehearing of its order to Greyhound to establish peak-hour commute service between San Francisco and the intersection of Skyline Boulevard and San Bruno Avenue in San Bruno, via Skyline Boulevard.

Greyhound previously had been denied rehearing, appealed the decision to the State Supreme Court, and the court annulled the CPUC order "for lack of the separately stated findings on all material issues required by section 1705" of the Public Utilities Code. The court did not decide on any other issue concerning the Commission's order.

Rifle Stolen From Home

Burglars stole a rifle, phonograph and record albums valued at $140 from the Robert Vaughn Byers home at 822C Antoinette Lane, Sunday, South San Francisco police report.

Devil's Slide Car Found

A Pacifica fireman climbed 600 feet down to an automobile at the bottom of Devil's Slide Thursday, only to find that it was a stolen vehicle which had been pushed over the cliff.

The department's power winch was in the shop for repairs, and fireman James Evans made the dangerous descent with only a rope after highway patrolmen spotted the demolished vehicle from the Cabrillo Highway.

No English, But Firemen Get Message

There are special problems for a family living in a land, where they do not know the language.

Mr. and Mrs. Jose Flores of 318 Magnolia Avenue, South San Francisco, do not speak English.

A fire broke-out in the kitchen of their home last Monday. A pan of food overheated, and the Spanish speaking family experienced a moment of panic when they realized they could not summon firemen by telephone.

Flores has a brother in Daly City who speaks English. He telephone his brother and informed him of his plight, the brother notified Daly City firemen, who in turn called the South San Francisco Fire Department.

Firemen eventually arrived at the house and extinguished the blaze, which caused only minor damage.

D.C. Boy, 17, Leads Police On Wild Ride

A high-speed chase through the streets of Daly City ended with the arrest of a 17-year-old youth Thursday after the stolen car he was driving crashed into a parked car.

The youth escaped the crash without injury and tried to flee the scene on foot, but was arrested in the Woodrow Wilson School yard nearby.

Police identified the boy only as "having a long history of similar arrests."

Office Fred Holewinske first spotted the suspect shortly after he allegedly stole a late-model car from the Williams Ford Company lot on Mission Street around 1 p.m.

Holewinske said the chase lasted more than two miles through crowded city streets before the stolen vehicle skidded into a parked car at the corner of Park View and Miriam Streets.

The youth jumped from the smashed car and raced across the schoolyard where Officer Holewinske finally cught and arrested him.

A straight-edged razor was found in the youth's pocket, police said.

He was charged with reckless driving, auto theft, and resisting arrest and sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

S.S.F. Child Gulps Dime

A South San Francisco child was hospitalized Thursday after he got a dime mixed up with his popcorn at a Pacifica movie house.

Seven-year-old Tracy Fitzgerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Fitzgerald, 649 Newman Drive, became choked on the coin at the Seavue Theater about 3 p.m. Thursday, firemen said.

He was taken to Kaiser Hospital for emergency treatment, and later released.

King Quits CC Post in Bruno

Dick King, dynamic manager of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce, resigned his post last week amid rumors of "dissension" over his progressive programs among members of the organization's board of directors.

King's resignation, effective immediately, followed a special board meeting called last Thursday to consider terms of a contract for his position during the current fiscal year.

He has not been under contract during the year and a half he has served as the organization's secretary-manager.

King declined to elaborate upon reasons for his resignation, stating only that "financial considerations" were involved, and "it was time to sign a contract."

He said he has made no definite plans for the future, but is considering operating his own public relations firm, along with other possibilities.

Chamber president William Schneider was unavailable for comment on the manager's resignation.

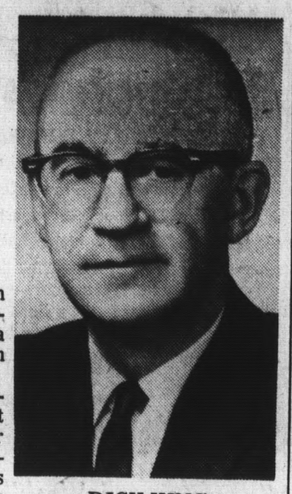

King, a former Las Vegas newspaper publisher, introduced a number of highly progressive programs during his tenure with the San Bruno chamber, including the long-range plan for a multi-million dollar downtown shopping mall.

He has stressed the expediency of downtown redevelopment as a means for the city's older merchants to "survive the shopping center surge" which is threatening the central business district.

At the same time, King has backed development of the Tanforan Shopping Center in the belief that the added shopping facilities "will attract consumers from surrounding cities, and thus benefit all San Bruno merchants."

The importance of the San Francisco International Airport and the airport's participation in community affairs, were also emphasized during his tenure.

He inaugurated an annual "Airport Appreciation Week" in the city, and this year staged a "flying chamber of commerce meeting," aboard a jetliner for area dignitaries.

DICK KING

S.S.F. School Session Set

Arrangements are now being made with the West Orange Avenue Library to display creditable work done by students attending the 1967 Summer School Session.

The Exposition will be held from Friday, August 4, through Wednesday, August 9, and will be open to the public during normal library hours.

N. County Asks Change In Election

The North San Mateo County Council of Cities is continuing to exert pressure on the County Board of Supervisors in its campaign to change the method of electing supervisors.

The council's latest move was a letter to the county board requesting that the special committee appointed to study the proposed charter change hurry up its report.

Members of the board merely took notice of the request and referred the letter to the committee to answer.

The committee, headed by insurance man Otto Graf, was organized in March following a long crusade by the city officials to get the charter changed. Graf's committee is scheduled to report its recommendation by the end of the year.

Proposed by the council is a charter amendment which would make each supervisor elective only in his own district. At present supervisors represent particular districts but election is at large, throughout the entire county.

Daly City Court

Pledge Renewed

County officials renewed their pledge recently that a branch of the Northern Judicial District Municipal Court will be located in Daly City.

The district judges — Charles Becker, F. Jose de Larios and Paul Hupf — met with the County Board of Supervisors and County Manager E. R. Stallings in Redwood City yesterday to discuss plans for the branch court.

The judges expressed concern about a seeming indecision on the part of the board members concerning the move but they were assured that two courtrooms will be provided in the new county office building to be constructed in conjunction with the Jefferson High School District. One of the courtrooms would be completed for immediate use; the other would be merely shelled in for future use.

Judge de Larios said he expected that a temporary courtroom would be provided in the old city hall and that the county would pay for the necessary renovations there.

The judges and county officials agreed that a joint request will be made of the state Judicial Council to make a crash study and recommend a basis for division of the north county courts. Judge de Larios pointed out that the decision on what kinds of cases will be handled in Daly City will determine what facilities will be needed in the new building.

S.S.F. Child Is Burned

A nine-month-old child was hospitalized in South San Francisco Thursday for burns received when he tipped a pot of hot coffee off a stove.

Gregory Kensinger, son of Mary Ann Kensinger, 367 Grand Avenue, was treated at the Kaiser Hospital emergency ward and later transferred to San Mateo County General Hospital.

He is reported in good condition.

Enjoy Barney's Casino Late-Night Owl Express

....INTERESTED IN enjoying a holiday at Lake Tahoe, Stateline, without the hazards of the road? Take the Barney's Casino bus from the San Francisco Greyhound Depot and "let them do the driving." Lloyd Shippey, Greyhound Executive, says that many passengers are taking advantage of the late-evening departure, which leaves the depot at 10 p.m. and arrives at Barney's at 3:15 a.m. The same Greyhound Bus departs from the Casino at 12:15 p.m. which puts you back in San Francisco at 5 p.m. The round-trip fare for this vacation treat is just $8.45. Upon arrival at Barney's you receive a $5 cash refund Sunday thru Thursday. Refund $3 Friday and Saturday. Barney's also has three additional daily schedules, with various refunds. But for "night owls," this 10 p.m. direct express is a "winner in more ways than one!" Barney's has 450 slot machines, in addition to the $25,000 Keno, and all the other games that go to provide "Entertainment the Nevada Way." R. L. "Dick" Chartrand is the general manager of this booming South Shore casino operation.

PHYLLIS AND AUGIE APRIL report that the Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening dancing policy at their Augie's has really caught on. Many take advantage of a late-dinner, plus the entertainment. Don't overlook the beverage luncheon special — double Martinis for just 75 cents . . . Pizza expert Enrico Romano can talk just as knowingly on another "love" in his life — race cars. Enrico has been in and around racing and fast automobiles almost as long as he has been the Pacifica "Pizza King." Stop by some night for an Italian dinner — perhaps he'll tell you about some of his driving experiences . . . Discriminating diners on the Peninsula know that Scotty Campbell's is a GREAT place for Prime Ribs. Night after night, this renowned Redwood City dinner house, managed by two delightful sisters, Theresa and Mary Lou, is packed with particular people . . . With the tourist season now in "full bloom," A Sabella's on Fisherman's Wharf is doing capacity business for luncheon, as well as dinner. Dancing to Joe Marcellino's Orchestra Monday through Saturday.

A RECENT BALKAN VILLAGE visitor was amazed when Louie Gundunas lifted a table with his teeth to do his famous Greek tavern dance. The observer's company manufactures "Polli-grip," the denture adhesive, and wondered if Louie used his product. Sorry, Louie's choppers are strictly his own . . . Personable Lou Ercoli will be missing from his South San Francisco Leaning Tower duties for a week, as he and his new bride of one week, the former Kathleen Kelley, are currently spending their honeymoon in Las Vegas. . . . Folgers Coffee, the Kiwanis Club, and the Peninsula Manufacturing Assoc. are three of several groups that were "booked" this week at the International Inn in South San Francisco. One of the highlights of the week, reported by General Manager Phil Rauscher, was the United Airlines dinner-party.

MONYA MERRIL, the "Saucy Sweetheart of Satire," sings sophisticated and risque song stylings of the type you won't hear on television at the Cameo Club. Her clever parodies and double entendres make you recall those of Ruth Wallis. She also serves as mistress of ceremony, who introduces the Topless, comedy and exotic performers . . . Ron DeMasi is the exuberant band leader behind the wild sounds at The Condor in San Francisco. An excellent musician, Ron plays the organ and leads the nightly musical antics . . . If you feel like gabbing with a girl, phone 391-7281. It's the phone used by the Girl In The Cage on Broadway at Goman's Gay 60's. New in the Gay 60's Topless show is Anastacia Kosak, former ballet dancer and nude artists' model in New York.

MIKE KOURKOUTAKIS, co-owner of Alexi's Zorba, the elegant new Greek restaurant in Burlingame, happily reported that almost 500 people showed up last Saturday night for dinner and to view the authentic Grecian entertainment. Bouzouki player Manolis Amboliotis and his Orchestra entertain nightly from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. Menu selections, as prepared by world-renowned chef Peter Alex, range from Zorba's Bar-B-Que Combination Dinner to the exotic and authentic Greek dish, Shish-Kebab "Souvlaki." . . . San Carlos' plush Carrousel restaurant was the scene of the annual installation dinner of the San Carlos Chamber of Commerce, last Tuesday. The gavel was presented to incoming president H. J. Johnson, the city's postmaster. The Chamber's long-time Executive Secretary is Irvin H. Schulz. Everyone pronounced it the best dinner-installation to date thanks to the smooth planning by Hostess Billie Ashpole.

SHECKY GREENE'S San Francisco fan club, headed by Larry Jossart and San Mateo's Sam Basin, turned up for his closing performance at the Las Vegas Riviera Hotel, last Monday night. They undraped a huge banner which read "We Love You Shecky," then Jossart and Basin came on stage and presented the comic with a huge silver platter inscribed "To Shecky from your fans in San Francisco." Greene, who now makes his home in the Bay Area, returns to the Riviera in September . . . A true gourmet can find his "haven" at Brothers delicatessen and restaurant in downtown San Mateo. Not only is he able to enjoy Kosher-style food in the relaxed atmosphere of the dining room, but he can take home the delicacies of his choice for evening snacks .

Nick's Rockaway "A Mardi Gras"

If you think Lawrence Welk has a party every week on TV, you should see the weekend action at Lorraine and Nick Gust's Nick's in Rockaway Beach. Dick Snyder and his Combo play for dancing on Friday and Saturday nights; Don Kelly appears at the organ, and Mary Ann Hay, one of the most loved performers ever, entertains as a vocalist. Weekends here are like a New Orleans Mardi Gras.

Don't Overlook The Black Angus' Cheesecake

Everyone on the Peninsula is raving about the great variety of "All you can eat" dishes served at the San Mateo Black Angus Chuck Wagon. It's true that Carlo Fasolo is serving what has to be considered as one of the most outstanding dine out "food buys" ever presented. If there's one thing that fits your Bright Lighter's fancy, it's the Cheesecake (Pineapple or Strawberry), that follows the main feast at the Black Angus.

Jackie Phillips Rejoins The Finocchio Cast

Jackie Phillips, one of those nutty entertainers who gets unexpected laughs at unexpected places, through gestures and lines, has rejoined the revue of female impersonators at Finocchios in North Beach, after a three-month tour of Eastern niteries. His songs are topical and entertaining; his pantomime is on a par with the best.

Romano Combo Plays For Dinner-Dancing

A pleasurable evening is assured when dining in the luxurious comfort of Blue Peacock restaurant in Millbrae. The culinary creations of Executive Chef Bill Marsh are deluxe; the Steve Romano Combo appears on Friday and Saturday nights for after dinner-dancing.

☆

Major construction is still taking place in the vicinity of Mills Square. But those patronizing the elegant V.I.P. Lounge couldn't care less. With all the bustling and building currently going on, the plush, cool interior of the V.I.P. is a welcome retreat for anyone watching the new buildings progress.

Winchester Room Has Reininghaus' Approval

DAPPER BUD REININGHAUS, manager of the San Mateo Roos-Atkins, is a recent member of the Villa Chartier and Lanai credit card club. It was my pleasure to take him and his party on a banquet room tour (there are nine such rooms), Wednesday evening, and they were especially delighted with the new Winchester Room, which is richly decorated, air-conditioned, has a private bar and dance floor, and accommodates from 25 to 250. "A wonderful place for a Christmas party," was Budd's smiling comment. The Villa Chartier and Lanai are well appointed for any occasion — from a dinner for two to a wedding party. Dining room hostess Edna Fuller and genial Manager Jack Bryce will be delighted to prepare a special menu and help you arrange party plans.

"Housewife of Week" Mrs. George Alfinito

Mrs. George Alfinito, of the happy clan who operate Rudolfo's in Palo Alto, is nominated as "Best Housewife of the Week." She washed the house windows so clean that George tried to walk through a sliding door. The result was some painful cuts on his hand, and a plea by George that she not wash windows so often.

News From San Mateo County Boys in Service

"PERSHING"

U.S. ARMY, Vietnam — Army Private First Class John G. Karparty, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Karpaty, 448 St. Francis Boulevard, Daly City, is participating in "Operation Pershing," in Vietnam.

He and other members of the 1st Air Cavalry Division have evacuated more than 19,000 refugees from coastal areas to numerous refugee centers in secured areas as well as inflicting heavy damage on the Viet Cong.

During the search and clear operation, he was engaged in dragging the VC from their vast network of tunnels and bunkers. They had been driven underground by constant U.S. artillery and air strikes.

Karpaty, a clerk, is assigned to Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion of the division's 8th Cavalry.

The private received his A.A. degree in 1966 from the College of San Mateo.

"MALHEUR II"

Duc PHO, Vietnam —Army Sergeant Joaquin S. C. Sanchez, 19, whose parents, Mr. and Ms. Lester L. Lockwood, live at 268 Third Avenue, Daly City, is participating in "Operation Malheur II" near Duc Pho, South Vietnam, with his unit from the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade.

Sgt. Sanchez, a squad leader assigned to the Reconnaissance Platoon in Headquarters, Company, 2nd Battalion in the brigade's 502nd Infantry, and other members of his unit have accounted for 379 enemy killed in the first four weeks of fighting in the heavily-infested North Vietnamese and Viet Cong territory.

Sgt. Sanchez entered the Army in June, 1965, and completed his basic training at Ft. Ord, Calif. He was last stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky., before arriving in Vietnam in March, 1967.

Sgt. Sanchez is a 1965 graduate of Jefferson High School, Daly City.

AT FORT LEWIS

Four future army officers from San Carlos, are at Fort Lewis, Wash. They include:

Ronald D. Renard, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Renard, 835 Orange Avenue, is attending from the University of Santa Clara. He is a 1964 graduate of Carlmont High School in Belmont.

William W. Granville, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Granville, 1864 Belmont Avenue, is attending from Seattle University, Seattle, Wash. Granville is a 1963 graduate of Serra High School in San Mateo. He is a member of Scabbard and Blade society.

William M. Feeney, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred J. Feeney, 256 Highland Avenue, is attending from the University of California at Santa Barbara. Feeney is a 1964 graduate of Carlmont High School in Belmont. He is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Michael D. Parsons, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane P. Parsons, 1827 Carmelita Drive, is attending from the University of Nevada in Reno. He is a 1963 graduate of San Carlos High School.

BASIC COMBAT

FT. DIX, N.J. — Walter H. Kraemer, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Kraemer, 2004 Howard, San Carlos, was promoted to Army private pay grade E-2 upon completion of basic combat training at Ft. Dix, N.J., June 15.

The promotion was awarded two months earlier than is customary under an Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees.

As many as half the trainees in each training cycle are eligible for the early promotion, based on scores attained during range firing, high score on the physical combat proficiency test, military bearing and leadership potential.

During advanced individual training, also of eight weeks duration, those who received early advancement to E-2 may be eligible for another "accelerated" promotion, to E-3 (Private first class).

Pvt. Kraemer received a bachelor of science degree in 1966 from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

FRANCIS MARION

U.S. ARMY, Vietnam — Army Private First Class Louis Arce, Jr., 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luis N. Arce, 2919 Loma Ave., San Bernardino, is participating in "Operation Francis Marion" in Vietnam with his unit from the 4th Infantry Division.

Pvt. Arce, a gunner in Company B, 1st Battalion of the division's 8th Infantry, and other members of his unit are conducting search and destroy operations in the Viet Cong-infested Central Highlands.

The operation, which began in early April, is named for the famed "Swamp Fox" of the American Revolution.

PURPLE HEART

U. S. ARMY, Vietnam — Army Acting Sergeant Magnus E. Nilsen, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fridth J. Nilsen, 121 Buxton Avenue, South San Francisco, received the Purple Heart medal, June 22 in Vietnam.

Sgt. Nilsen received the award for wounds received in action while serving as a team leader in Company B, 4th Battalion of the 9th Infantry Division's 39th Infantry in Vietnam.

Nilsen entered on active duty in April, 1966, and arrived in Vietam last December.

He is a 1965 graduate of El Camino High School in South San Francisco.

The sergeant also holds the Combat Infantryman's Badge.

COPTER COURSE

FT. WOLTERS, Tex. — Warrant Officer Candidate Donald C. Mattingly, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Mattingly, 1122 Marquita, Burlingame, completed a helicopter pilot course at the Army Primary Helicopter School, Ft. Wolters, Tex., June 23.

During the 16-week course, he was trained to fly Army helicopters and learned to use them in tactical maneuvers.

He next will undergo advanced flight training at the Army Aviation School, Ft. Rucker, Ala. Upon completion of advanced training he may be appointed a warrant officer.

FIGHTER WING

DA NANG, Vietnam—Marine Lance Corporal Robert E. Wells III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wells Jr., of 1309 Bellaire Road, San Mateo, is at the air base in Da Nang, Vietnam, serving with Marine All-Weather Fighter Squadron 232, a unit of the First Marine Aircraft Wing.

As a part of the Marine Corps air-ground team, his squadron, utilizing the F8E "Crusader" jet, is capable of carrying out bombing missions at night and during adverse weather conditions.

Aircraft from the squadron attack enemy positions and provide close air support for U. S. and allied ground forces engaged in combat operations.

RECOVERY SERVICE

FT. BENNING, Ga. — Airman Third Class Michael J. Howard, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn J. Howard, Laguna Drive, La Honda, completed the Army Infantry School's three-week airborne course at Ft Benning, Ga., June 30. Howard is serving with the Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service at Orlando Air Force Base, Fla.

His training, which included five jumps from a C-130 airplane flying 170 miles an hour at an altitude of 1,250-feet, qualified him as a parachutist. He also underwent strenuous physical conditioning.

AT FT. McCLELLAN

FT. MCLELLAN, Ala. — Army Private Gerald H. Schwab, 23, son of Mrs. Vivian I. Michaels, 1645 Hunt Drive, Burlingame, completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training June 29 at Ft. McClellan, Ala.

He received specialized instruction in small unit tactics and in firing such weapons as the M-14 rifle, the M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

NAVY BASIC

SAN DIEGO — Seaman Recruit Norman L. Harvey, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Harvey of 1603 Cobb Street, San Mateo, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

FIRST INFANTRY

DI AN, Vietnam — Army Specialist Four Richard E. Dean, 18, son of Mrs. Laurie Dean, 506 19th Avenue, San Mateo, was assigned to the First Infantry Division near Di An, Vietnam, June 10.

Spec. Dean, whose father Earl signed to the division's 1st Administration Company. He entered the Army in February 1966 and was last stationed in Korea.

Spec. Dean, whose fatehr Earl W. Dean, lives at 2315 Downing, Westchester, Ill., completed his high school education through the General Education Development program.

COMMISSIONED

FT. BELVOIR, Va. — Jack A. Klein, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris C. Klein, 309 Portofino Drive, San Carlos, was commissioned an Army second lieutenant upon graduation from the Engineer Officer Candidate School at Ft. Belvoir, Va., June 23.

The lieutenant received 23 weeks of instruction in preparation for his first assignment as an engineer platoon leader.

He was trained in map reading, interpretation of aerial photographs and construction of fixed and floating bridges, roads and airfields. Extensive instruction was given in combat engineering, camouflage, reconnaissance and demolitions.

POWER COURSE

FT. BELVOIR, Va. — Army Private John E. Nielsen, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Teador F. Nielsen, 3276 North Blythe, Fresno, completed a 10-week power generation course at the Army Engineer School, Ft. Belvoir, Va., June 15.

He was trained in the operation and maintenance of hand and power tools, gasoline and diesel engines, and operation of gas turbine and diesel generators.

His wife, Judi, lives at 520 Seventh, Menlo Park.

CUBAN DUTY

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba —Marine Sergeant Peter J. Nepote, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nepote of 1025 Bayswater Avenue, San Mateo, was promoted to his present rank at the U. S. Naval Base, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, while serving at the Marine Barracks.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance, and his knowledge of selected military subjects.

Guantanamo Bay is the United States' oldest overseas naval base, acquired through a lease agreement with Cuba in 1903. The base includes a harbor, ship repair facilities, and two airfields. Guantanamo's wartime role is to support combatant naval forces operating in the Atlantic.

From this base, the southern approaches to the United States can be controlled. Its peacetime role is to support fleet operational training. Guantanamo's aerial gunnery range, which is available to the Atlantic Fleet, is the only one unhampered by commercial air traffic.

AT DONG HA

DONG HA, Vietnam — Marine Corporal Michael J. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Smith of 4012 Fernwood Street, San Mateo, is serving with Maintenance Platoon, Force Logistic Support Unit One, a unit of the Force Logistic Command at Dong Ha, Vietnam.

During a recent assault on the Demilitarized Zone, the Force Logistic Support Unit completely supported a multi-battalion Marine Force during Operation "Hickory Nut." Using helicopters, the unit supplied combat Marines with ammunition, food, water, and medical supplies.

The Force Logistic Support Unit forms part of the Marine Corps air-ground team that conducts large-scale search and destroy operations against the enemy in South Vietnam.

HILLSDALE GRADE

Sandwich Sardine Filler

Sardine filling for sandwiches needs just the right seasoning!

Sardine Sandwiches Olives
Fresh Fruit
Compote Beverage

SARDINE SANDWICHES

1 can (3¾ ounces) brisling sardines, drained
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons minced onion
6 thin slices buttered bread, toasted if desired
Lettuce
Extra mayonnaise, if desired

Mash the sardines with the lemon juice, mayonnaise and onion. Make 3 sandwiches using sardine mixture as filling for the bread and adding a layer of lettuce; if used, spread the lettuce with mayonnaise.

Carrot Pie Recipes Are Rarely Seen in Cookbooks

RECIPES FOR CARROT PIE are rarely seen in cookbooks. Nevertheless, this pie, in our opinion, is well worth baking.

We offered Carrot Pie, made from the following recipe but without naming it, to six enthusiastic tasters. Of course they wanted to know what was in it. Only one taster guessed that carrots were the main ingredient.

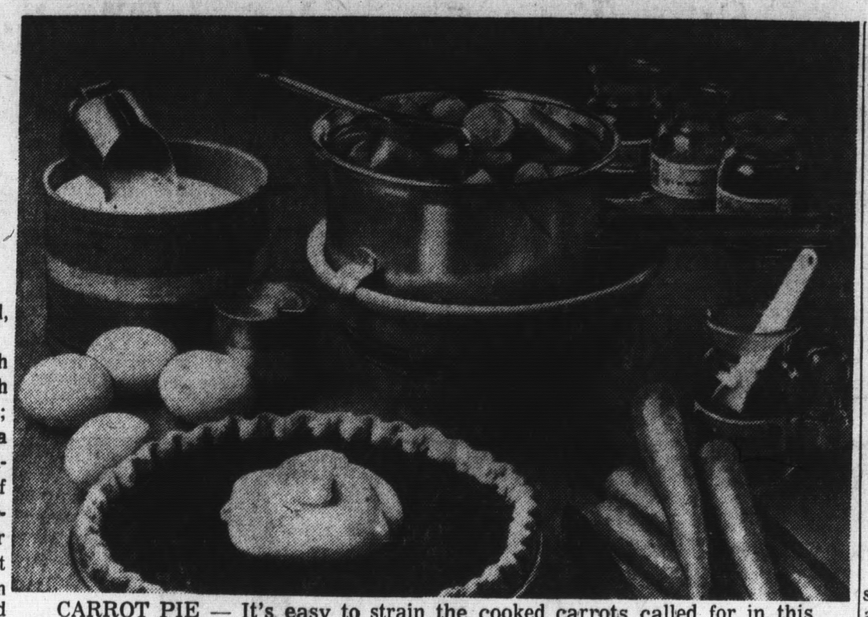

This pie is reminiscent of pumpkin pie, and it's deliciously spiced. It's an economical dessert because undiluted evaporated milk, instead of heavy cream, is used in its filling—but you'd never know it.

One interesting point we must bring up. This Carrot Pie is temperamental. A friend of ours baked it four times; one time out of the four, its top cracked—just the way cheesecake sometimes does. We hasten to say that this cracking—should it happen when you try the pie—doesn't affect the eating quality one bit.

CARROT PIE

1 plastic bag (1 pound) carrots
1½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon cloves
1 can (6 ounces) evaporated milk, undulted
4 eggs
1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell, fluted rim

Cut a small slice from each carrot top and discard. Wash and scrub carrots; do not peel; cut into 1½ inch lengths. Into a medium saucepan turn the water, carrots and ½ teaspoon of the salt. Bring water to boil; reduce heat, cover and simmer until carrots are tender—about 20 minutes. Drain; strain through food mill—there should be 1½ cups.

CARROT PIE — It's easy to strain the cooked carrots called for in this interesting recipe when you use a convenient food mill.

½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Drain crabmeat and scatter small pieces over pastry shell; arrange large pieces, spoke fashion, around the shell.

CAREFREE SALADS PERFECT FOR SUMMER DINING — Too hot to cook. Let carefree salads come to the rescue. Delicious and easy to make is this winning duo: a handsome molded loaf and zesty three-bean mexican salad. Both owe their flavor to a new dressing idea — French dressing combined with gravy seasoning sauce.

Keep Cool With Salads

Too hot to cook. Keep cool with carefree salads that look as good as they taste. Delicious and easy to make is an impressive molded salad filled with chunks of meat, fish or chicken, garden fresh vegetables—and flavored with a savory combination of French dressing and brown gravy seasoning sauce. For colder days a hearty three-bean salad fits the bill—and it is as simple to make as opening a can.

Serve both with hot breads, fresh berries and cookies. For an added sweet note, provide rock candy swizzle sticks for the iced drinks. The youngsters will love this.

SAVORY SUMMER SALAD LOAF

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
1 cup cold water
1 can (10 oz.) consomme
½ cup French dressing
1 tablespoon Gravy Master (gravy seasoning and browning sauce)
1 cup cooked peas
½ cup pimiento pieces
1 large cucumber, thinly sliced
2 cups cooked and cubed chicken, flaked fish or diced meat

Soften gelatin in cold water, then add to consomme and heat until dissolved. Stir in dressing and Gravy Master (gravy seasoning and browning sauce); refrigerate. When mixture is thickened, stir in remaining ingredients and turn into loaf mold rinsed in cold water. Refrigerate until firm. Turn out and garnish. Makes 6 servings.

MEXICAN BEAN SALAD

1 can (1 lb.) cut green beans
1 can (1 lb.) red kidney beans
1 can (1 lb.) Cece beans
1 onion sliced
½ cup pickle relish, drained
1 package (6 oz.) cubed sharp cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup French dressing
1 Teaspoon Gravy Master (gravy seasoning and browning sauce)

Leftover Ham Takes Easily To Muffins

One good way to solve the problem of summertime weekend meals is to bake a ham, make a potato or macaroni salad and stock up on relishes and fruits to weave around them.

Even so, with all the eating, there are bound to be leftovers: those slivers and pieces which will make up about two cups. These make a delightful supper, if they're served with English muffins, cheese sauce and asparagus.

This is especially good served with cranberry or cranberry-orange relish.

Ham 'n' Cheese on a Bun

2 cups coarsely chopped cooked ham
3 large English muffins
3 tablespoons milk
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cheese soup
1 egg
1 can (15½ ounces) green asparagus spears or
18 medium-sized fresh or frozen asparagus spears, cooked
Paprika, if desired

Split English muffins and toast lightly under broiler. Add milk to 1-cup cheese soup. Mix well and cook slowly, stirring constantly, until hot. Combine remaining 1-3-cup soup and egg, add ham and mix well. Spread ham mixture on toasted muffin halves allowing about 1-3 cup for each. Place muffins on rack in broiler pan. Arrange 3 asparagus spears on each. Broil slowly 5 minutes or until ham mixture browns lightly and asparagus is heated through. Serve hot cheese soup mixture over each muffin, allowing about 3 tablespoons for each. Sprinkle with paprika, if desired. Six servings.

This Cake Starts In Refrigerator

REFRIGERATOR RISING COFFEE CAKE

2⅔ cups (about) unsifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup (1 stick) butter or margarine
½ cup warm milk
1 egg, beaten slightly
1 cup chopped wanluts
⅓ cup chopped drained maraschino cherries
1½ tablespoons sugar

In a large mixing bowl stir together the flour, sugar, salt and lemon rind.

With a pastry blender, cut the butter into the flour mixture until particles are fine. In a small warm bowl dissolve yeast in water; add to flour mixture with milk and egg, Beat until well blended. Cover bowl with plastic wrap then a towel; let rest 20 minutes. Turn dough out (it will be soft) onto heavily floured board.

Roll to a rectangle 14 by 10 inches; spread with mixed walnuts, cherries and sugar. Roll up from the 14-inch side. Place on a greased baking sheet; cut diagonal slits about one-inch apart on both sides of roll starting from top surface of roll and cutting about two-thirds of the way through. Pull cut pieces out alternately right and left. Cover loosely with plastic wrap.

Refrigerate two to 24 hours. When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator; uncover the dough carefully; let stand at room temperature 10 minutes.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until done. Frost with confectioners' sugar frosting, if desired.

Celery Mushroom Salad

½ cup olive oil
2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
½ to ¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
½ teaspoon sugar
2 cans (each 1 pound) hearts of celery, drained
1 can (6 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
Lettuce
½ cucumber, peeled and sliced
1 medium tomato, sliced

In a shallow container, with a fork, beat together the oil, vinegar, salt, pepper and sugar; mix in the celery and mushrooms. Cover tightly and chill for 1 hour or longer to allow flavors to blend. If oil congeals, allow to stand at room temperature for a brief time before serving. Serve on lettuce; garnish with cucumber and tomato. Makes 6 servings.

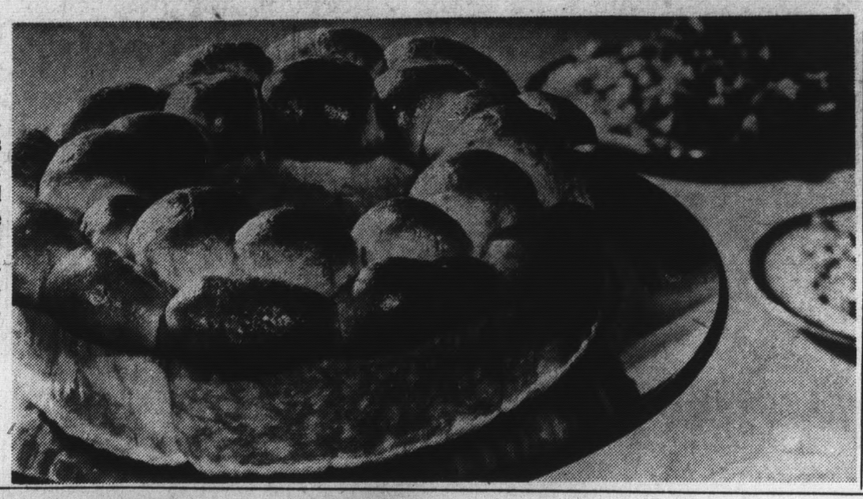

Monkey Bread Is Easy

Monkey Bread, so glamorous, yet so easy, makes a delightful accompaniment to the dinner hour. You need just two simple ingredients, Bridgofrd frozen ready to bake bread and melted butter. Let the frozen loaf thaw at room temperature about 2 hours or in the plastic bag, to keep the surface moist, in the refrigerator 8 to 12 hours (overnight is perfect). Cut and shape into rolls, dip in melted butter, and arrange in a ring mold. At this stage it can be refrigerated again (up to 8 hours) in the event you wish to bake a little later. Or, put in a warm place immediately to rise—then bake. It's very simple, just a little timing. Enjoy the fresh baked flavor and aroma without the measuring, mixing, and kneading of old fashioned methods.

MONKEY BREAD

1 loaf (1 lb.) Bridgford frozen ready to bake bread
½ cup butter, melted

Let frozen loaf thaw at room temperature about 2 hours. Or, in plastic bag to keep the surface moist, in the refrigerator 8 to 12 hours. Cut loaf in quarters. Cut each quarter into 6 pieces approximately the same size. Immerse each piece in melted butter. Place pieces in single layer in a 1½ quart rign mold. Pieces should be pushed together at random. Drizzle any remaining butter over the top. Let rise in a warm place (90 Degrees F. to 150 Degrees F.) until double in size. Bake in a 375 Degree F. oven 2o to 25 minutes, or until done. Turn out on round plate. Hold another round plate on bottom of Monkey Bread and turn over so top is up.

PANCAKES DELUXE

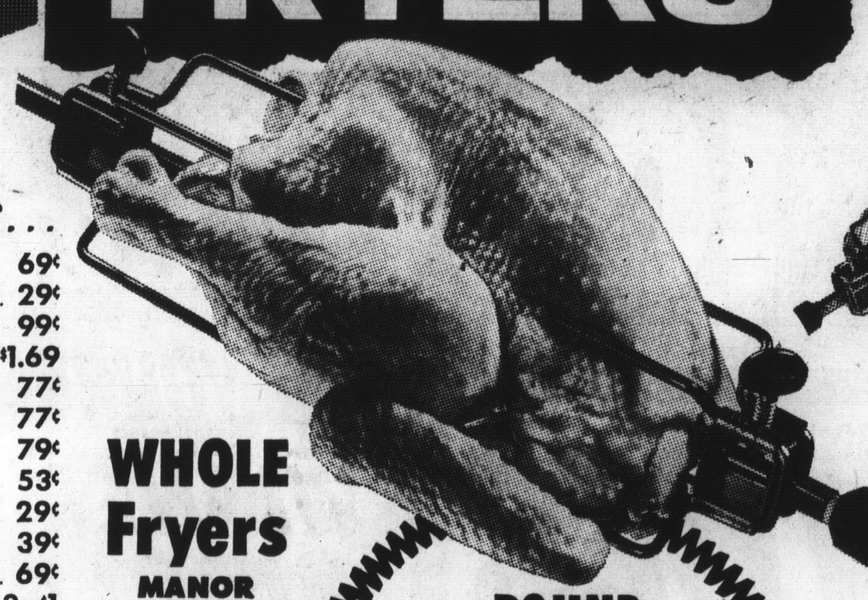

To every three cups pancake batter blend in ½-cup chopped California walnuts and ½-cup of your favorite fresh berries. Cook; fold in half; then fill with sweetned whipped cream and dust with powdered sugar for a light luncheon or dessert treat.

SOUPER COOLER

Frosty cold summer soups such as Borsch, Gazpacho and Vichyssoise are refreshing on hot summer days. You'll find them extra satisfying if served topped with a spoonful of chopped, toasted California walnuts.

MEAT DRIPPINGS

When you pour off drippings, store in a covered jar and refrigerate. Use them for frying meat, often directed in recipes. There are valuable nutrients in the drippings which can thus be utilized.

Drippings may also be used to season vegetables, like green or lima beans, potatoes and onions. The flavor of many vegetables including potatoes, breaded egg plant, cabbage and tomatoes is improved.

Tired? Just sitting — doing nothing else — uses 28 extra energy calories an hour. Refresh with tea. A teaspoon of sugar in it provides 18 calories of quick energy — nutritionally.

Sundae Pie Cools 'Em

Summertime calls for easy cooking and patio entertaining. Keep cool with Strawberry Sundae Pie. It's easy to make and attractive, too.

Tart and tangy Carnation Lemon Sour Ice Cream is pressed into a baked pastry shell, topped with strawberry preserves and more ice cream. Then it's frozen, ready to pop onto the table when you're ready to serve.

Try Lemon Sour Ice Cream and the other Carnation flavors soon. They are so plain good, they're good plain.

⅔ cup strawberry preserves
Fresh strawberries

Press 1 pint Lemon Sour Ice Cream into pastry shell. Spoon strawberry preserves over ice cream. Lightly pack remaining ice cream on top. Freeze 2 to 3 hours. Garnish with fresh strawberries. Serve immediately.

FRESH FRUIT FLAMBE

Combine two cups bite-sized pieces of mixed fresh fruit with a 12-ounce jar pineapple sundae topping. Heat to a boil, then stir in ½-cup California walnuts. Spoon ¼-cup rum or brandy over surface of fruit and flame. When flame burns out, stir and ladle over ice cream.

COOK-OUT FUN

For your next cook-out, fill cored apples with chopped California walnuts and brown sugar; dot with butter. Center each on a 12-inch foil square of heavy aluminum foil; bring foil up loosely over apple and twist to seal. Cook over hot embers until apple yields to gentle pressure.

Here's Cake With Light Texture

Looking for feathery lightness in a cake? This cake has appealing flavor, too.

The method used for achieving this is the conventional one, except for the addition of the egg whites. These are beaten, of course, and part of the sugar incorporated into them before they are added to the batter.

Mocha Frosting with a blend of novel flavors, cinnamon and coffee, puts the finishing touch on this delicacy. It's a special occasion cake in its two nine-inch layers.

Sour Cream Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup lard
1 cup sugar
2 egg yolks, beaten
½ cup dairy sour cream
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 egg whites
½ cup sugar

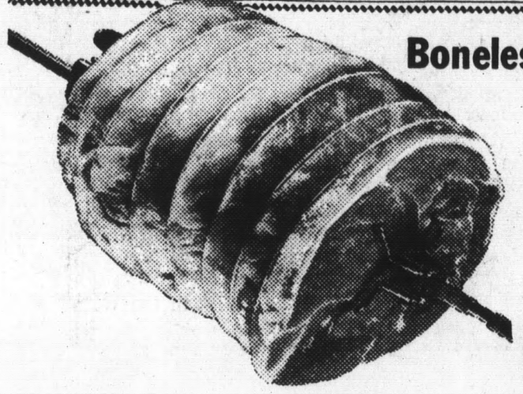

Line two 9-inch cake pans with waxed paper. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt together. Cream the lard and one cup sugar until light and fluffy. Add well beaten egg yolks. Mix dairy sour cream and milk. Add sour cream mixture and flour mixture alternately; add vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry, and then beat in ½-cup sugar. Fold egg whites into cake batter. Pour batter into pans and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Top with Rich Mocha Frosting.

Rich Mocha Frosting

¼ cup butter
2 cups confectioners' sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons hot, strong coffee
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 egg yolk

Soften butter. Add one cup confectioners' sugar mixed with cocoa and cinnamon. Add hot coffee and vanilla; mix well. Add remaining sugar and egg yolk. Beat until smooth.

Pork Ribs Gems in Jam

Sweet and spicy is this brush-on sauce that goes over spareribs or back ribs during the last half of their baking time. It also gives them a beautiful glaze.

Either kind of ribs is a very popular cut. Spareribs have longer bones than back ribs. The latter are also more meaty. Since pork has a somewhat delicately sweet flavor it takes a sauce with sweetening. This one has orange marmalade and molasses with spicing provided by the cloves.

GEM JAMB RIBS

4 pounds pork spareribs or back ribs
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon molasses
¼ cup orange marmalade
½ cup catsup
1-3 cup finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
4 whole cloves

Place spareribs on rack in open roasting pan. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 1½ hours. Combine mustard, vinegar, lemon juice, molasses, orange marmalade, catsup, onion, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper, garlic salt and whole cloves. Bring mixture to boil and cook 5 minutes. Remove spareribs and rack from pan and pour off drippings. Return spareribs to pan. Pour half the sauce over spareribs and continue baking 30 minutes. Turn, pour remaining sauce over second side of spareribs and bake 30 minutes longer, or until glaze is set. 6 to 8 servings.

ZESTY LAMB HASH

Barbecue sauce adds zip to leftover lamb made into hash. Use three cups of diced lamb, left from a roast, with four cups of cubed, cooked potatoes and one-fourth cup chopped onion with just enough of the sauce to moisten. Heat in frying pan with a small amount of lard or drippings in a casserole in the oven.

CATCH THOSE DRIPS

Cooking on the rotisserie unit of the out-of-doors grill? Catch those drippings in a foil pan, just a little longer and wider than the meat on the rotisserie rod. The pan is placed directly on the coals. It will cut down on a lot of the smoke so you can remain a good neighbor.

D.C. Recreation Department Activities

The following is a summary of last week's Daly City Recreation Department summer program activities:

WESTMOOR PARK By DAVE BARRY — A Race Day was held under the leadership of Aide Judy Frost. The events were: a Hopping Race, Skipping Race, Backward Race, Bunny Hop Race, Walking Race, Running Race and a Consolation Race. The outstanding participant of the Race Day was Linda Kaufman taking first in the Hopping Race, third in the Skipping Race, third in the Backward Race and second in the Running Race.

Nina Crescini won top honors in the Skipping Race. Elaine Frates was first in the Backward Race. Debbie Brant won the Bunny Hop Race. Patty Lewis won as the top walker in the Walking Race. Carol Manchester was the fastest girl on the park as she won the old standard Running Race by a large margin.

Greg Matteis is the King of Ping Pong as he edged Rick Cardera 21-10 and 21-17 to win the high school boys' Ping Pong Tournament.

The Westmoor Park Mets extended their winning streak to 6 as they downed Abe Lincoln 12-1 and 5-4.

WESTLAKE SCHOOL By JOE GALBO — The special event for the week will be a Baseball Day. Besides a game, there will be contests to see who can throw the ball the farthest, run the bases the fastest, hit the farthest and many others. The Basketball Clinic was a great success. Garret Jones and Mike Silverthorne were the high scorers of the game with 19 and 18 points respectively.

The "Field Busters" are working hard getting ready for their first softball game. Stan Jacobs, Ron Cipro and Mark Cuniberti are a few of the hard workers. There are also kickball games every day.

WESTLAKE PARK By BILL GENTRY — A week of games and action "happened" at Westlake Park, Paddle Pool Tournaments and Checkers for the younger participants (under 12) and a Round Robin Ping Pong Tournament for the older ones. Debbie Simenero, a newcomer to the park, took first place in the Paddle Pool Tournament with Gret Hutter scoring a close second. Joannie Politeo took the Checker Tournament, with Sally Costello, second.

Three man softball teams are soon to be organized.

COLMA SCHOOL By ROY REITZ — A boys' softball tournament is in progress at Colma School. Five teams in the A Division 11-14 years of age) have been playing every afternoon. The All-Stars, a team made up of Frank Bertini, Chinto Fonesca and Ed Denning are undefeated with a record of 6 wins.

The recreation facilities are available for use in the evening from 6 to 8:30 p.m., as well as in the afternoons from 12 to 5 p.m. A girls' kickball tournament is being organized and the first game will begin this week. All girls from ages 10 to 14 are invited to participate in this tournament. Ribbons and certificates will be awarded to the members of the first and second place teams.

WESTMOOR HIGH SCHOOL By BOB CELESTE — Highlighting the week's events are the Spikers. This is the fine volleyball team captained by Al Silva. They won their first outing of the season by defeating the Unstoppables 15-11 and 15-13. Fine play was demonstrated by Lisa Spigarelli, June MacDonald, Dave Morro and Shirley McLoyd.

A Carroms Tournament brought 22 boys to the gym to test their siill. Rick Deboi, Brian Phemester, Butch Vouchilas and Matt Phemester captured the 4 awards. Wrestling is IN AT Westmoor High. Newest grapplers that have shown great promise are Jim Frates, Mike Hyland, Steve Gomez, Dennis Deschler and Mike Daly. A Ping Pong Tournament is now in the planning stage.

WAR MEMORIAL COMMUNITY CENTER By PATSY WALKER — The final puppet show was presented to an enthusiastic group of 70 youngsters. Nearly 45 puppeteers and workers prepared two weeks for the show which was a tremendous success. One of the most delightful puppet acts was given by the Bascom family, consisting of Robin, Victoria and Wayne. The "Pinnocchio Tells a Lie" act by Denise and Rita Miller knocked the youngsters off their chairs with laughter. Sandy and Debra Boux with Virginia Smith continued the fun with their show called "How to Be Nice." The most original puppets made from paper plates and cups were displayed by Virginia and Janet Smith. Special mention should be given to the many workers and artists, who helped construct and decorate the puppet house. Laurie Cox, Tanya Bickham, Annette Tinetti and Denise Roy were some of the more ambitious workers. Oscar DaMonta, Fred and Mario Pereria were doormen and Miss Rose Harper was master of ceremonies.

Next week, the Center will be accepting entries for the "Box Art" contest, after 1:00 p.m. on Monday through Friday. The Recreation Leader is available for more information.

LINCOLN PARK By ANDY FOLEY — Tournaments are going full swing at the completion of the second round. Clementh Williams has taken the majority of the honors with his consistent placing in the top three places of each event. Clementh has finished first place twice, 2nd place twice and 3rd place once. The table games of Checkers, Paddle Pool and Carroms always cause great excitement at Lincoln Park. Other award winners in the tournaments are: Andy Driscoll, Danny Mitchell, Joanne Berry, Ira Fern, Anita Olsen, Richard Fern and Kenneth Dandridge. This week's tournaments have been everything but predictable. A dark house surprise, Joanne Berry, won the Carrom Tournament with Richard Fern and Kenneth Dandridge finishing 2nd and 3rd respectively. Ira Fern captured 1st honors in the close Paddle Pool competition, with strong Anita Ilsen taking second and Clemeth Williams taking 3rd.

Volleyball is the park's new event, held every Tuesday and Thursday from 1:oo to 2:00 p.m. It seems to be attracting as much spirit as does the park's fagorite event, kickball.

VISTA GRANDE By DANTE PROFUMO — The Vista Grande Softball Team cropped a tough 4-3 decision to Panorama. Plans Ping Pong Tournament. The first entrants include Steve Mjehavich, Bill Bates and Bruce Olmanson.

This Friday will be featured a Bike Day. All youngsters are encouraged to bring their bikes on this one day and to participate in the various contests.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN SCHOOL By BOB RUBIN — The Pet Contest was a smashing success. Winners were: Best Pet — Leslie Craig's Dalmation, Saddest pet — Holly Allen's "George", Happiest Pet — Judy LaFerge's "San", Wierdest Pet Dressed Pet — Brian Lyman's — Karen Siteol's Newt, Best Dressed Pet — Brian Lyman's "Egor" and special prize to Gerri Garone's cat. The 1st prize in A. Lincoln's Checker Tournament was won by Michael Wall. Other outstanding competitors were: Cookie Teahan, Cathy and Susie Teahan, Donny and Niny Clausen, Cheryl Cook and David and Steven Gregory.

JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY By CAROL COSTA — A Ping Pong Tournament was featured last Friday. First place ribbons went to: Steve Beroldo in the 10 year old boys division, Jim Devlin in the 11 year old boys division and Nanette Hansen of Santa Cruz in the girls competition. The best player award was received by Michael Smyth.

DANIEL WEBSTER By AL McALLISTER — Last Wednesday a Doll Show was held. Prizes were given for the best dressed, smallest, biggest, and most beautiful. The winners were Lorie Schelter age 9, Sylvia Bowie age 7, Deborah and Terri Brandt, 8 years old. Last week's winners in the King of the Mountain Day were: Tom Piqzza (King of the Mountain) grand winner in the Bike Race and Standing Board Jump, Roy Colclough in Sit-Ups, Mike Montague in the Obstacle Course. Patty Sheerin was the Queen of the Mountain, outpointing her female competitors by a vast margin.

Today, a LeMans Bike Race will be held.

F. D. ROOSEVELT SCHOOL By GENESSE BOURDEAU — The uncomquered reign of Westmoor Park's 7th and 8th grade team came to an end in the second game of a doubleheader with FDR last week. Westmoor won the first game 4-3, but with a fine team effort and four double plays, FDR took the night cap 4-1. Fine individual effort was contributed by Robbie Ward for FDR, while Teddy Grey did an outstanding job for Westmoor. Other activities at FDR last week included Tug of War Competition, Monster-Bubble Blowing, a Cat Show and a Model Car Show.

VISTA MAR By MARC MALLINGER — The winners in the Doll and Model Show were Madilyn Horn — Most Beautiful Doll, Julie Dahlen — Funniest Doll, Sandra Felt — Largest Doll, Alex Carneil — Best Model, Daniel Denning — Best Plane Model, Paul Ellwein — Biggest Model. The Decathelon is now in full swing. Tomorrow a Bike Day will be held. Races and bicycle skills will be judged. The contest begins at 2 p.m.

CROCKER SCHOOL By ED LARIOS — New names have taken over as stars in various activities, although some of the familiar names have gone on to continue their domination. Franklin Shelton and Mark McNeil are two of the new stars in Tanbark Tag. Kim Rawls is continuing his domination over the boys in Tetherball while Rhonda Rawls is rising as the one beat in the girls' division. On the game scene, Judy Ezell and Joyce Chavez are taking over the titles as the ones to best in Sirry. Barbara Ezell is number one in girls' Ping Pong. This Friday, the weekly Crocker School Playday will consist of Bicycle Rodei with awards given to overall winners.

Westlake Bowl

By JAMES GREALISH

Our Junior bowlers will invade Sacramento next weekend for the annual California State Junior Bowling Tournament. The chartered bus left Westlake Bowl at 7 a.m. Saturday, and returned at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Junior Director Marge Brown has forty "bowlers of the future" lined up to compete against the best junior bowlers in the State in the doubles, singles, and team events. Our bowlers will be staying at the Caravan Motel.

Joe Maurino pulled all the stops last Thursday in the 560 Pro Trio League when he rolled a great 921 series with games of 203-256-236 and 226, a tremendous four game series. Joe ended in a tie for top honors with Westlake Pro Les Barrett who had games of 223-216-269 and 213. Bill Greer was the only other bowler over the nine-hundred mark, shooting games of 216-214-213 and 265 for a 908 series. Gary Moeller and Steve Hargrove were the other high rollers, Gary with 801 on games of 256-216-197 and 222 while Steve had 171-196-256 and 256 for 879.

Suzanne Markey was the high roller in the Ladies Invitational Trio League with a 197 game and 644 series.

Joe Brown rolled a 776 four game series to lead the 510 Scratch Trio League with a high game of 223.

A great 246 game and a 593 series by Mike Mooney topped the Westlake Knolls League for the week.

Another 583 series was posted last week, this one in the San Francisco Naval Shipyard League by Walt Guittard who had a high game of 206. Elinor Perazzo again led the ladies, shooting a 164 game and 469 series.

Doris Moeller and son Gary topped the West Portal Merchants League for the week as Doris rolled 162 and 428 while Gary shot 224-203 and 194 for a 621 series.

Muriel Swango led the ladies in the Wiglet League with a big 192 game and 524 series.
